SUCCESS CROWNS CHAMBER'S TOUR

President Enthuses Over Results Obtained by "Get-Together" Swing About Vancouver Island

JOINT PUBLICITY DRIVE IS LIKELY

Communities to Act as One Next Year, Says Mr. J. C. Pendray, Publicity Bureau Head

SATISFACTION at the results achieved through the first annual Island tour of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce which ended yesterday when the two dozen members who took part returned to the city, was voiced last night by President C. P. W. Schwenger and others. Enthusiastic willingness of the people of Vancouver Island to co-operate with Victoria in all things calculated to further the interest of the island, was discovered at all places visited, and the members are confident that the future will bear witness to the value of the "get-together" plan.

President Schwenger, interviewed a few minutes after his return to Victoria and before he left for his home to take a well-earned rest, issued the following statement: "I am indeed well pleased with the result of our efforts. The trip up-island was taken with a well defined purpose born of a conviction that the time had arrived when some definite effort should be made to bring about concerted action in an effort to adopt a sound basis of co-operation for the whole of Vancouver Island. We realized that real progress depended on the growth and advancement of the whole, and consequently we felt that the best results could be obtained by co-operation with people of other centres all those things having to do with development of industry and the tourist traffic. By reason of the geographical position, their natural resources and their vast tax contributions, they should have an equal voice in any matter affecting conditions on the island."

Everyone in Support
"With that object in view we visited every district on Vancouver Island and the results obtained have exceeded our most sanguine hopes. Splendid meetings were held at Ladysmith, Port Alberni, Courtenay, Parksville, Nanaimo and Duncan. Continued on Page 2

PREMIER DIRECTOR ACQUIRES CLAIMS

MR. A. B. TRITES SECURES BOND ON LATEST STEWART STRIKE

Property Lies Across Divide From Great Portland Canal Mine, and on Bear River Watershed

VANCOUVER, Oct. 10.—Having taken a bond on the latest mineral claims in the Portland Canal area, A. B. Trites, a director of the Premier Mines, returned to Vancouver with samples of high-grade silver-lead ore. The claims known as the Gold Cliff Group, add another chapter to the romance of mining in the district. Two weeks ago Bill Dunn, hotel man, arrived from the North with a ship full of ore samples, and induced Mr. Trites to investigate.

Jim Douville and Frank Riva were two of the men who were interviewed. Last Fall he purchased the nucleus of the group, and during the summer, with Douville, purchased and staked other claims. As was Riva who made the sensational find, in a gulch, at a place where in the early days of the camp the men used to cut wood. The discovery was first examined by A. St. Clair Brindle, mining engineer, of Vancouver, who supported the representations which Mr. Dunn made to Mr. Trites. The latter, in company with the engineer, spent several days on the ground. The property lies immediately across the ridge from the Premier mine, on the Bear River side. The discovery is a wide fissure vein, with five feet of high-grade ore. There are two groups and a total of eighteen claims, extending from the river bank to an elevation of some 4,000 feet at the international boundary. The main showing is traceable on the surface for 1,200 feet. It strikes diagonally up the mountain and dips at an angle of about 55 degrees.

Bill Dunn is well known in Victoria, having operated the Prince George restaurant on Government Street for several years, and about five years ago left for Portland Canal, where he is at present conducting a hotel.

DAIL EIREANN TO CONSIDER BOUNDARY

Meeting of Irish Home on October 15 Will Take Up Matter of Commission

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—The Dail Eireann will meet October 15 to consider the bill creating an Irish boundary commission, passed by the House of Commons and Lords and yesterday approved by the King. It is proposed to suspend all the standing orders and to pass all stages of the bill on the 15th, so as to complete the formalities which are needed to enable the British Government to appoint the third member of the boundary commission.

PAPERS COMMENT ON BOAK TRIAL

PUNISHMENT QUESTIONED BY VANCOUR PROVINCE

Doctor No Ordinary Criminal—Old Penalties Fail to Fit Case—New Ones Must Be Devised

Interest in the manslaughter trial of Dr. E. W. Boak, keen as it has been in Victoria, has not been unmatched elsewhere. The whole of the Province has manifested close attention to the proceedings from start to finish. Outside newspapers are now freely commenting on the conviction and sentence.

The nature of the punishment prescribed by the law for a man like Dr. Boak disturbs The Vancouver Province. It says: "Dr. E. W. Boak, a well-known Victoria surgeon, has been sentenced to four years in the penitentiary for manslaughter. A jury found him guilty of having run down and killed Adam Ballantyne on the East Saanich Road. According to the evidence, the accident occurred while Dr. Boak, in his auto, was racing with a car driven by another doctor, and the judge, in passing sentence, said he had searched in vain for any circumstances which would justify a lighter penalty."

"The case is one of those growing steadily in number, which indicate that our criminal law is not keeping pace with the march of progress. The sentence is a heavy one, but there will be little disposition to quarrel with it on the ground of severity. The very fact that a sentence of four years is deemed a deterrent and offer a protection to society. With the quality and nature of the sentence, however, there will be some disagreement, and this disagreement will not necessarily arise out of sympathy for the accused or his family."

No Ordinary Criminal
"Dr. Boak is not an ordinary criminal. Yet, under the law, he is subjected to a penalty which, the experience of centuries has shown, is suitable for the common felon. In the ordinary case such a sentence offers a chance of reformation; it has or is thought to have a deterrent effect on others who may be tempted."

Two Police Officers Placed on Probation

Chief Brogan and Sergeant Rankin of Saanich Force Put on Good Behavior Until End of Year—Reeve Macneil Argues for Dismissal Against Majority of Commission—Bungling in Boak Case Charged—Law Enforcers "Indiscreet"

CHIEF of Police Peter Brogan and Sergeant Allan Rankin, of the Saanich police force, were last night put on probation until the end of the year by the Saanich Police Commission, at its meeting in the Council Chamber at 11, Russell Hotel, Victoria, Oct. 10. The resolution carrying this decision into effect was moved by Commissioner Charles P. King and seconded by Commissioner E. W. Dempster, who were of the opinion that "the actions of Chief Peter Brogan and Sergeant Rankin had at times apparently been indiscreet; but the evidence submitted to the Commission in its inquiry into charges levelled against Chief Brogan was contradictory, and not sufficient to warrant any drastic action."

Reeve Robert Macneil, chairman of the Saanich Police Commission, disagreed with Commissioners King and Dempster in their action, voicing his reasons for voting against their resolution in the following words: "Considering the present conditions of affairs in the police force in Saanich, I very much regret that I cannot agree with the finding of my fellow commissioners, as I feel that a reorganization is necessary at the present time."

Charges that there had been no very considerable improvement during the year in the administration of Saanich police affairs, and that the Boak case had been very badly bungled by the senior officers of the Saanich police force were the features of Reeve Macneil's address to the Commission, after it had heard the pleas of Mr. J. R. Brandon and Mr. Herbert Davey, counsel for Chief Brogan and Mr. Owen Lloyd respectively, in their clients' interests.

Tells of Boak Case
The Reeve said that the two doors taken off the Boak car were permitted to lie in garage, at least two days. A car was allowed to be taken to a repair garage and if his informa-

SAYS GERMANS SEEK TROUBLE

Colonel George Ham Relates Experiences During Just Completed Trip Through European Countries

TRUCULENT TEUTON MUCH IN EVIDENCE

Unfortunate Weather Conditions in England Held Responsible for Financial Failure of Exhibition.

QUEBEC, Oct. 10.—The impression prevailing among the majority of Canadian and American tourists who have visited Germany and other European countries concerning Germany is that her traveling citizens are not at all anxious to avoid another war. This was the information gleaned in an interview with Col. George Ham, of Montreal, on board the Canadian Pacific steamer Minnedosa.

The Colonel is slightly improved in health after his two months' holiday in Ireland, Scotland and France, and, referring to Germany, said that the Germans travel in luxury and spend good marks freely. He said they drink money like drunken sailors and drink wine like Englishmen spend beer, and their traveling bearings towards the nations of the Allies seem to indicate that they want to bring on another war.

Continuing, Col. Ham said: "Old England is still there and very busy getting back to normal economic conditions and Canadians over there are occupying a pretty good place in the public eye." "Despite the bad weather which was a great extent responsible for the British Empire Exhibition being a financial failure, industries and business in England and Canada over there are occupying a pretty good place in the public eye."

Council Charges Jury Was Irregularly Chosen

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Oct. 10.—Following the return of "No bill" yesterday by the grand jury in the case of Mr. Richard Squibb, ex-Premier of Newfoundland, charged with larceny, the crown counsel today filed affidavits with the court to the effect that the jury had been improperly selected. It is stated in the affidavits that the jurors were chosen without regard to the law, and it is not known yet what action will be taken.

DECLARES ELECTION ISSUES AS TRIVIAL

LONDON TIMES EDITOR GIVES IMPRESSION OF CONTEST

Resigning Previous to Winter Unemployment Planch Would Help Laborites' Campaign

VANCOUVER, Oct. 10.—Shortness of the campaign and the fact that the issue is susceptible of being described as trivial are the two main impressions of the London Times, editor of The London Times, at present holidaying in Vancouver, draws no strong hope of a change from the present minority government in Great Britain. Mr. Dawson leaves for England Saturday morning, his vacation having been curtailed by the political crisis which has developed during the last two or three days.

Asked for his views on the political situation, Mr. Dawson said he did not help feeling that it was an unfortunate time for the country that another general election should be called to grips with the question of the tariff which would relieve from their present duty such implements and articles as are used in the development of those natural resources.

Policy of Immigration
"It is the policy of the Government of which I have the honor to be the head to introduce a vigorous policy of immigration which will people the vast areas of undeveloped country in the great West," declared the Premier.

"The future prosperity of this country is bound up in the development of its great natural resources and to develop these resources it is necessary to have a large increase in the population of Canada. There is to the north of this city a great tract of land that is crying out for development. The Peace River country is among the richest in Canada, but before the proper development of that country can take place an outlet to the Pacific Coast is an absolute necessity."

Pledges as Soon as Possible
"I pledge myself that as soon as it is humanly possible, the great Peace River country will be given the measure of railway relief that will bring to the pioneers of that country the outlet that they have been so long denied and will open up the country for prospective settlers."

COMPLETE DAWES REPARATION LOAN

NEGOTIATIONS SATISFACTORILY END AND ISSUE TO FOLLOW

More Than Half to Be Allotted to United States, and Germany Also to Subscribe

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The negotiations for a loan of $50,000,000 gold to the German Government, provided for by the Dawes reparation plan, were successfully concluded this afternoon, and the loan will be on the financial markets of nine countries, including Germany, within a few days. More than half of the entire loan—$25,000,000—is to be raised in the United States. The loan is to be dated October 15, mature in twenty-five years, and bear seven per cent interest. They will be offered to investors at ninety-two, thus yielding approximately seven and three-quarters per cent to maturity. The terms of issue in the various markets are virtually identical.

Through the dinner hour the crowds thronged Main Street and accorded him a very hearty welcome. The Prince presided at a dinner at the Port Garry Hotel where he will occupy the royal suite until his departure Sunday morning for Chicago, via Duluth.

FAVORS LINE TO PACIFIC COAST

Premier Mackenzie King Would Connect Peace River Country by Railroad to Salt Water

PLEDGES UNDERTAKING AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

Delivers Message of Optimism Before Large Audiences at Edmonton by Means of Radio

EDMONTON, Oct. 10.—Before an audience in the First Presbyterian Church that numbered 2,000 and to overflowed meetings in adjoining auditoriums which numbered some thousand more and to which his speech was delivered by radio, the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, tonight delivered a message of optimism as to the future of the West and gave his pledge that the Peace River country would be given a railroad outlet to the Pacific Coast as soon as it is humanly possible to do so.

For the development of the great natural resources of the country, the Liberal leader promised reforms in the tariff which would relieve from their present duty such implements and articles as are used in the development of those natural resources.

"The future prosperity of this country is bound up in the development of its great natural resources and to develop these resources it is necessary to have a large increase in the population of Canada. There is to the north of this city a great tract of land that is crying out for development. The Peace River country is among the richest in Canada, but before the proper development of that country can take place an outlet to the Pacific Coast is an absolute necessity."

"I pledge myself that as soon as it is humanly possible, the great Peace River country will be given the measure of railway relief that will bring to the pioneers of that country the outlet that they have been so long denied and will open up the country for prospective settlers."

"I must, however, sound the same note to you here as I did to the citizens of the Peace River country that we are passing through a very difficult and I would ask you to have a little patience and in as short a time as possible a railway outlet will be provided for the Peace River country and Northern Alberta districts that will open up an era of prosperity for the country which will not be equalled by any other province in Canada."

General Booth Praises Canadian Hospitality

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—In a talk with newspaper men today, General Bramwell Booth, the Salvation Army leader, praised Canada's hospitality to immigrants. "You, more than any nation, have been seized with the genius of welcome. But I want you to go further. I have thought of you as a nation of farm training for youth from 18 to 20. I think if I find the money to set such a thing on foot, Canada ought to give free passage. I'll bring you the right kind of settler, for we have the courage to say 'No' to our muffs. You will be greatly the gainer by my scheme."

Despair Driven Away From Ellington Home

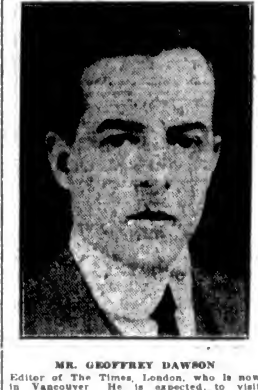

Kind-Hearted Public Comes to Rescue—Father Finds Magistrate Merciful—Suspended Sentence Follows Conviction on Charge of Attempted Banditry—Money Coming in Fast to Aid of Distressed Family—Some Work Found for Parent and More Promised

THERE was rejoicing in the Ellington home at Marigold yesterday morning when Magistrate Jay released on suspended sentence the husband and father who faced jail for having robbed the Mitchell & Duncan jewelry store window on Wednesday.

Renewed hope entered the humble portals of the Ellington household when the liberated prisoner was reunited to his family. The hope had ample justification. For the dread vision of a husband and father languishing in prison had been banished. Banished, too, was the sinister uncertainty of the future.

There were many visitors in the Ellington house yesterday morning. They brought food to augment the supplies left there on Thursday by Mr. Fred Landberg, when there was but a cupful of sugar to feed five hungry mouths. They brought blankets to cover the beds, and warm clothing for the bodies of the children.

ALLEGED KIDNAPPER RELEASED BY POLICE

DETROIT MAN HELD AT VANCOUR GIVEN LIBERTY

Detained on Wired Request, Would Be Empress of Canada Passenger Loses Passage

VANCOUVER, Oct. 10.—Following the dispatch of a message to Detroit authorities by Frank Lyons, his counsel, assuring them that his client was innocent of the charge and threatening action, R. J. Yearley, arrested Thursday at the request of Detroit officers a few hours before he was to sail for Manila, was released on instructions from the eastern city.

Yearley was arrested by Detective Elliot on the Empress of Canada, just before she sailed, on instructions from Detroit authorities, who alleged that he had kidnapped his client's son. The child was not with him and he knew nothing of the charge, he said.

Detour Police Notified
Detroit police were notified of the arrest and the fact that Yearley was unaccompanied.

In the meantime the Empress of Canada, on which Mr. Yearley had booked his passage for Manila, sailed. A reply was received by police this morning requesting the release of Mr. Yearley, and an unsuccessful attempt was made to obtain an airplane to take him to Victoria in order to catch the Empress. The trouble is said to have arisen out of the domestic difficulties between Mr. and Mrs. Kanady, of Detroit, brother-in-law and sister of Mr. Yearley.

Mr. Kanady, it is said, was given the custody of the son by the courts, and recently it disappeared. Apparently the father should have known that Yearley was taking the boy with him to Manila, and Vancouver police were ordered to pick him up.

He announced that two mechanics have been added to the German personnel, bringing the total of those who will be on board to twenty-eight Germans and four Americans.

LABOR REVIEW ATTACKS CHIEF

Utterances of Intellectuals' Mouthpiece Held to Imply Serious Crisis in Ranks of Independent Party

ACCUSES MR. MACDONALD OF LACKING GENEROSITY

Declares If He Could Sink Vanity and Admit There Were Others He Might Remain in Power

LONDON, Oct. 10.—At the opening of the campaign for what is described as "an unwanted" election, perhaps the most striking incident is the extraordinary attack on Premier MacDonald, published in the intellectual Laborite review, The New Statesman, organ of the Independent Labor Party. If the attack faithfully represents the feeling of any large section of the party, and is not the outgrowth of some personal feud, it is regarded as implying a serious crisis within the ranks of the party.

Paying tribute to Mr. MacDonald's remarkable career as a parliamentarian and Foreign Secretary, the article says some of the highest officials in the Foreign Office consider he has been the best Foreign Secretary Great Britain has had in a quarter of a century, and that if he is not mourned elsewhere, he certainly will be mourned in the Foreign Office.

Premier Alone Responsible
Yet the article proceeds to say that Mr. MacDonald alone is responsible for having brought the country into the present "abundant political predicament," that while he has been an immense success as Foreign Secretary, as Prime Minister he has been an utter failure. The writer then accuses Mr. MacDonald of being a miserly opportunist, of indifference to those who placed him in power.

This reference is in regard to a statement that Mr. MacDonald consistently refused to "cut out of Mr. Asquith's hands."

Complaining of Mr. MacDonald's intense personal feeling against Mr. Asquith and his floating of 4,000,000 Liberal votes, the article continues: "But Mr. MacDonald lacks generosity. He is jealous of those whose personal competition he fears. As Prime Minister he seems too thick-skinned to live."

With much more in the same vein, the article complains of Mr. MacDonald's "amoral" prope, vanity and aloofness from his colleagues, and says: "If he could sink his vanity and prejudices, and admit the possibility of there being other men besides himself, he might be in power another year or two."

The article on the whole seems to lament Mr. MacDonald's refusal to co-operate with the Liberal Party. On this point, however, The New Statesman is not considered in political circles to represent the general view of the Laborites.

FINE AND IMPRISON VANCOUVER ADDICTS

Three Dealers in Drugs Sentenced to Two Years and Payment of Thousand Dollars Fine

VANCOUVER, Oct. 10.—"We will want to help you young men if we can; but we have to prevent you becoming centres of infection," said Judge Coyle, when John J. Gormley, Fred Beekman and Dan Anderson, who pleaded guilty a few days ago to having drugs in their possession, were brought before him for sentence. "You fellows cannot use drugs without wanting others with whom you come in contact to use them also, therefore the only thing to do is to remove you to a place where you have no influence. I will sentence each of you to two years in the penitentiary, and a fine of $200 each, in default of payment of which a further month must be served."

Formerly Respectable Citizens
Letters showing the men had been respectable members of the community were read by Mr. F. Lyson for Beekman and Gormley, and by F. H. Marsden for Anderson. As a result of which the small term in default of payment of the fine was added.

Further, Judge Coyle informed the trio that he would personally communicate with the warden of the penitentiary asking that special care be given them, and that in the event of their being cured within a reasonable time, they be given another opportunity to apply for parole, which he would recommend.

Conductor of Sir Charles Tupper in Fight for Confederation Spies Out the Land

VANCOUVER, Oct. 10.—B. B. Newcombe, aged ninety, who was an officer in the Halifax Garrison during the Fenian raid days in 1866, arrived in the city Thursday morning on a tour of inspection, as a result of which he states he may settle in Vancouver. He has been a farmer for his life, with the exception of his military training, and declares that "work never kills, though worry does."

Recently he took up a homestead in the Westwight district of Alberta, proved up on it and then sold it at a good profit, he states. He remembers the days of the fight for Confederation in Nova Scotia, in which he took part with Sir Charles Tupper.

Spirit Lake Region Repeats Strains Sent From Far, Far Away

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 10.—Accounts of strange music coming out of space in the vicinity of Spirit Lake and Mount St. Helens have been received here recently.
Albert Weiss, who had business in the Spirit Lake region in connection with mining claims, asserted that he heard the music, which included strains from some of the operas. Weiss' story was not taken seriously until August Frye, superintendent of a Tacoma foundry, who had never met Weiss, reported the same thing. Both men said the music was heard between 9 and 11 o'clock at night.

The tale has led to the supposition that radio waves from broadcasting stations have been picked up by ledges of minerals in that region, and reflected back as sound.

MANY WOMEN TO JOIN IN CAMPAIGN

FAIR CANDIDATES AND SPEAKERS NUMEROUS IN BRITAIN

Fourteen Females Already Selected by Labor Party to Run for Seats in House

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Among the women candidates for Parliament is Dame Helen Gwynne Vaughan, professor at the University of London, who is again the Conservative candidate in the London borough of Camberwell. Dame Vaughan was in the triangular contest in Camberwell in the general election of 1923, won by C. J. Ammon, Laborite.
Miss Evelyn Pilkington, a member of the family of famous glassmakers, which employs the greater part of the population of the borough of St. Helens, is again fighting in that constituency against "Jimmy" Sexton, the veteran dockers' leader. In the last election Miss Pilkington, who is a Conservative, was defeated by Sexton in a straight fight.
Miss Corbett Ashby, Liberal, who has twice lost in Richmond, Surrey, where she was defeated by H. Becker, Conservative, is standing for Watford, Hertfordshire, as a Liberal.

Fourteen Women Laborites
There are fourteen women Labor candidates. Among them is Dr. Ethel Venning, a candidate in East Islington, where she and two others were defeated in 1923 by A. S. Comyns-Carr, Liberal, in a four-cornered contest.
Mrs. Mary Mercer, who has been selected by the council of Birkenhead for the Birkenhead mayorality, is fighting for the Labor cause in the Fairfield division of Liverpool, where Major J. B. Cohen, Conservative, was returned in the last election by acclamation.

Miss Isobel MacDonald, daughter of Premier Ramsay MacDonald, will conduct the election campaign in Basildon, Nottinghamshire, for her brother, Malcolm MacDonald, until he returns from the United States, where he is now with the touring Oxford University debating team.
Malcolm MacDonald Unsuccessful
Malcolm MacDonald was the unsuccessful Labor candidate in Basildon in the last election when Sir Hume Williams, Conservative, was re-elected in a three-cornered fight. Oliver Baldwin, son of Stanley Baldwin, former Premier, is the Labor candidate in the borough of Dudley. J. H. Clynes, son of J. R. Clynes, Lord Privy Seal, is again contesting the Hampstead division of Hertfordshire in the Labor interests. He was defeated there in 1923 in a three-cornered fight.

Both sons of Arthur Henderson, Home Secretary, hope to repeat their success of the last election. Arthur, Jr., in South Cardiff, and Thomas, in the Tradeston division of Glasgow.
Home Secretary Arthur Henderson is again candidate in Burnley, where he was victorious in a by-election after having been defeated in another constituency in the general election.

FIREBUG ATTEMPTS TO BURN BUILDING

Constable Discovers Ignited Kindling in Basement of Courtenay Block—Lodgers Endangered

COURTENAY, Oct. 10.—What appears to have been a deliberate attempt to fire the Courtenay Block here was averted at 3:45 a.m. today when Night Constable James Cairns discovered the destroyer's work.
Perceiving smoke coming from H. Verber's poolroom in the basement of the building, Cairns called the fire brigade, who responded smartly and soon had the blaze under control.
Roomers in the upper part of the structure made a hasty escape.
The firemen found eleven piles of kindling in the poolroom, five of which had been ignited. The smoke had apparently prevented the fire bug from finishing his work.

Wonderful Days Represent Three Big War Periods

So far as the Canadian Corps is concerned, the hundred days—those wonderful days dating from the stemming of the German push to the final victory—divide themselves into three great chapters—Anden, the Drocourt-Queant line, and Cambrai. In addition to these ponderant chronicles there is on record the massing of the army when the word was given to move, an astonishing achievement.
All Canadian children should know the epic story. Nearly every one of them could boast a father or brother as having a share in it, or as having done loyal service during the years that led up to the climax. Some of these fathers and brothers can themselves tell the story; many are too far away. It is especially to the heirs of these last that the opportunity must be given to understand how they gathered their glory and why they did not return.
Victoria should see to it that the generation which is growing to manhood in this beautiful city has before its eyes for all time a "memento mori" worthy of its gallant forerunners.
The Victoria War Memorial headquarters are at 610 Fort Street.

NEW LIGHT IN CASE OF MONTREAL BANDIT

Crown Will Inform Court New Evidence Will Prevent Possibility of Conviction in Retrial

MONTREAL, Oct. 10.—When the Supreme Court of Canada hears the plea of Leo Davis, under sentence of death with five others for the murder of Henri Cloutier, next Tuesday, R. L. Calder, K.C., crown prosecutor, will be present to tell the court that in the face of facts that have come to light since Davis' first trial, the King's Bench jury, the Crown does not feel that sufficient evidence exists to convict Davis if he were granted a new trial.
That, it is presumed, will have influence in causing the Supreme Court to reject all consideration of a new trial and to confine itself to a straight choice between maintenance of the conviction and death sentence, or acquittal.

WEIRD TALES WRITER ESTEEMS CITY HIGHLY

Gifted Contributor to Rotarian Says Victoria Is Place of Wonderful Dreams

"Victoria is a wonderful dream city," declared Ralph Anderson Parker, magazine writer, yesterday. Mr. Parker's present visit is his third trip this year to Victoria.
"It is impossible to resist the appeal of Victoria whenever I am within a few hundred miles of the city," the author explained. "This year I have traveled over 1,100 miles for the purpose of gathering material for travel articles, but I do not hesitate to say that I find more pleasure in writing about Victoria than about any other city, for it has won my heart."
Mr. Parker returned early this month from an Alaskan trip that included visits to islands off the coast and a pack train trip into the interior, as well as the usual ports seen by tourists. In commenting about conditions in Alaska, the writer suggested that Victoria should take advantage of its opportunities to enjoy extensive trade with Alaska, adding that many business men in the territory expressed preferences for dealing with Canadians.

Parker is a young American writer who has come to the front rapidly in the past few years. REPORT OF RUSSIAN ART SALE STIRS PARIS

Former Official of Hermitage Museum Declares Rumor Is Merely Practical Joke

PARIS, Oct. 10.—The report that the Soviet Government has decided to sell the pictures of the Hermitage Museum, Petrograd, caused a considerable sensation in Paris. It was pointed out immediately that in the present state of her finances France could not hope to acquire any of the Rembrandts, Raphaels, Leonardo da Vincis, Velasqueses, Michelangelos, Murillos, Titians, Hals or the other innumerable masterpieces which it is believed would for the most part find their way to America.

The report, at least as originally printed, was treated as a gross exaggeration, although it was noted that the League of Nations recently had made an inventory of Vienna's artistic treasures without any protest being raised, and it was commented that such inventory would have no meaning unless the possibility of selling had been at least entertained.
Alexandre Troubnikoff, former assistant curator of the painting department of the Hermitage Museum, allayed much uneasiness by giving his opinion that the report was a colossal practical joke. He was still in fairly close touch with friends remaining in Russia and knew the present curator very well, having long worked with him.

M. Troubnikoff explained that the works in the Russian museums were greatly increased by the addition of private collections and by the internationalization of castles throughout the country.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL NO PART OF HIS PLAN

Vancouver's Mayor Informs Attorney-General Politically Run Department Not Acceptable

VANCOUVER, Oct. 10.—"Provincial government control of the Greater Vancouver police is the last thing I want," declared Mayor W. R. Owen this morning in reply to statements of South Vancouver councillors to the effect that they would have nothing to do with the mayor's metropolitan police proposal because they understood it involved government control.
"I told the Attorney-General last week," said Mayor Owen, "that if he contemplated bringing down legislation to establish a police force controlled from Victoria it would never meet the approval of the municipalities, regardless of what political party is in power."
"What is needed is a metropolitan force controlled by a commission comprising the mayors of Vancouver and New Westminster and the Reeves of South Vancouver, Burnaby and Point Grey. The Attorney-General said he was open to conviction on this point and asked that following a conference with municipal heads their views should be placed before him."

BANK IS REQUIRED TO PAY DAMAGES

In County Court Yesterday Case of Scott vs. Union Bank Disposed of—$25 Allowed

In the County Court yesterday Judge Lampman disposed of the case of Scott vs. Union Bank, an action for damages. His Honor awarded damages to the amount of $25, the amount the bank had deposited in the court to satisfy the claim.
The case was one in which the plaintiff, manufacturing a floor polish, had occasion to get part of his supply of raw material from the Imperial Oil Company. A cheque for $10 which he had given to the company in payment for supplies was returned on the grounds that there was not sufficient funds to meet it in the bank. Investigation showed that the account should have shown sufficient funds, but a mistake in making an entry under another Scott account reduced the correct amount on deposit.
The plaintiff held that he had his credit with the Imperial Oil Company impaired, and claimed $1,000 damages. Mr. Gordon Campbell appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. H. A. Maclean, K.C., for the defendant company.

EXTREME CAUTION CLOTHES TENDERS

BIDS FOR TRANS-PROVINCIAL HIGHWAY CALLED MONDAY

Government Intends to Take No Chances—Tenders Must Be Heavily Bonded

From the announcement made yesterday by Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, in connection with the calling for tenders for completion of the Trans-Provincial Highway, the Government intends to take no chances of repeating the P.G.E. tangle. Extreme caution is contained in the bid of the conditions relating to contracts, and tenders are asked to make heavy deposits to protect the Government from possible damages.

Relative to the proposed road through the Fraser River Canyon, Mr. Sutherland announced that he would apply to the Board of Railway Commissioners at its next sitting in the West, for a ruling on the liability to the Province of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways for damage caused the old Cariboo wagon road when they constructed their roadways through the Canyon. Money so obtained would apply on the cost of the Provincial Highway, the Minister said.

Difficult Engineering
"The Government, by calling for tenders," said a statement given out by the Public Works Department, "is not finally committed to the present choice as the final decision will, of necessity, have to depend on the prices submitted for the various classes of work on the different contracts. Through the Canyon, the road is located at many points in close proximity to either the Canadian Pacific or Canadian National Railways and the tenders of the different contractors will be governed by the view they individually take of the difficulty and risk involved in carrying out work under these conditions."

"Contractors will be required to deposit very heavy bonds with the Government to as far as possible insure that they take all steps humanly possible to preserve the safety of the traveling public on the railways; and, further, it is improbable that the Government will consider the bid of any contractor who is not specially experienced and qualified in this class of dangerous work. This is a case where angels may weep, and where the Minister of Public Works may be more than justified in not necessarily accepting the lowest tender."

COLLEGE SUNDAY IS OBSERVED TOMORROW

"Is Ministry a Man's Job?" Subject of Rev. McMin's Sermon at Congregational Church

The First Congregational Church will celebrate the eighty-fifth anniversary of the Congregational College of Canada at the evening service on Sunday. The pastor, Rev. A. K. McMin, will speak on the subject: "Is the Ministry a Man's Job?"

Sunday, October 12, is being recognized as "College Sunday" throughout all the Congregational Churches in Canada. The history of the institution will be recalled and grateful remembrance of the claims of the college upon the churches will be presented together with the dependence of the churches upon the college. The Congregational Theological College at Montreal is the oldest of its kind in Canada. It was founded by the Rev. Adam Little in 1839, then pastor of a church in Dundas, Ontario, and formerly a missionary in India. The next year it was moved to Toronto, Ontario, where it was known as The Congregational Academy. In 1864, by the initiative of Western men who were eager that the ministry should have university training, the college was moved to Montreal that it might become affiliated with McGill University. It was the first college to enjoy this privilege. In 1912 it entered into a great scheme of co-operation with the Diocese, Presbyterian and Wesleyan Colleges, all of which, nestled around the university grounds, were moved to Montreal that it might become affiliated with McGill University. It was the first college to enjoy this privilege.

In 1912 it entered into a great scheme of co-operation with the Diocese, Presbyterian and Wesleyan Colleges, all of which, nestled around the university grounds, were moved to Montreal that it might become affiliated with McGill University. It was the first college to enjoy this privilege.

The young man who is fortunate enough to be a student at any one of the four co-operating colleges in Montreal has an opportunity which is hard to equal. The professors of the four colleges form the common staff of the co-operating system; the colleges are situated in a cosmopolitan city, are themselves cosmopolitan and are affiliated to the great cosmopolitan University of McGill. How significant and how prophetic of the future that in these days of growing internationalism with all its attendant adjustments our leaders, in the things so powerful to unite men or divide them, are being trained in such an atmosphere.

In answering the question, "Is the Ministry a Man's Job?" Mr. McMin will consider the minister's task in the light of our modern day with its endless challenges to intellectual honesty, moral heroism and self-sacrifice.

The morning subject at the First Congregational Church will be: "The First of the Priests." This is the third sermon in the series—The Great Religious Leaders. Mr. McMin will not confine attention to the priest who is chronologically first but deal especially with the man who more than any other was responsible for the organizing of the priestly system and its accompanying ritual. He will contrast the place of the priest in religion with that of the prophet, sketch its history and emphasize its values together with some of the evils which easily creep into the system.

A LESSON IN FIRE FIGHTING

FLUSHING, Netherlands, Oct. 10.—A single fire hose spraying nitrogenous foam recently accomplished in three minutes what several fire departments were unable to do in twenty-four hours.

A fire in the yards of an oil and asphalt company continued more than twenty-four hours despite the combined efforts of the local department reinforced by the firemen of neighboring towns. The nitrogenous foam sprayed from a distance of 300 yards extinguished the blaze in three minutes.

Our mission was set forth in great detail in every case we were sent away with the assurance that the communities were behind our plan to a man and were ready and anxious to assist in whatever project might eventually be formulated as a result of our efforts.

It has been left with the Victoria delegation to take the initial steps and we hope to make a move towards the realization of our hopes within the next two weeks, providing we can get the right men—men possessing the necessary ability and who are willing to sacrifice their time to the work. I am confident that no reason exists why our hopes should not be consummated with most beneficial results.

"We believe that the aims and ambitions of Victoria in its attitude towards the Island as a whole are far better understood and appreciated than ever before, and I am on very safe ground in saying that the possession of the Island in new spirit by the whole of the people will lead to a new era of close co-operation, which in turn will bring the definite accomplishments we so much desire."

Publicity Prospects
Mr. J. Carl Pendray, chairman of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, was equally enthusiastic at the outcome of the excursion.

"It was the most successful trip of its kind that I have ever seen," said Mr. Pendray. "Everything went off so well. Everywhere we went we were met by big turnouts and all our meetings were attended by big crowds. I was quite surprised by the number of people who turned out to welcome us."

"Everyone up-Island feels that some united action should be taken to develop what we have here. They were just waiting for someone to give them a lead. I think we made our tour at the most opportune moment that could be conceived. We have welded the Island into one community and I shall be surprised if we have any bickering in future."

"In so far as the tourist traffic is concerned, the people we met all admitted that Victoria had been the big drawing card in the past. At the same time they felt that they had not been getting their proper share of the business. I told them I thought that was because they had done little or no advertising, and I think they agreed with me."

Get Behind Bureau
"I believe different points on the Island will contribute liberally next year to a joint advertising campaign managed by the Victoria bureau. It would be impractical for each community to do its own work of that nature. That is recognized generally. The sentiment of the up-Island people seemed to be in favor of the local work for all."

Mr. Pendray felt that Victoria merchants would also benefit from the chamber trip. The upper end of the Island work for all. Mr. Pendray felt that Victoria merchants would also benefit from the chamber trip. The upper end of the Island work for all.

Plans were now under way, said Mr. Pendray, to have a central bureau to give attention to Island matters. This might be the present Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, or a new organization altogether. As soon as Dr. D. E. Kerr, president of the associated boards, had recovered his health, probably in a week or ten days, the first step would be to decide, exactly what kind of body could best work for Island unity and progress.

Dinner at Duncan
DUNCAN, Oct. 10.—(Special)—The dinner of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce on their mission to promote a spirit of co-operation among the various Island communities.

Owing to the absence of Mayor Muir, through illness, Acting Mayor Smythe extended a cordial welcome to the visitors on behalf of the citizens of Duncan.

The dinner was presided over by Mr. C. F. Davies, of Victoria, who delivered an interesting and eloquent address. He stressed the necessity of the Island districts to co-operate in securing more adequate recognition of the needs of this portion of the Province from the Government. Co-operation had co-operated with the Mainland communities had resulted in the building of the P.G.E., and the Island paid its full quota towards the cost of that undertaking without receiving any benefit therefrom. A paved highway for the benefit of the Lower Mainland had been secured in the same way. A huge expenditure had been promised for a trans-provincial highway, but even passably decent roads on the Island were lacking, owing to failure to co-operate with the Mainland communities in demanding a square deal.

Mr. Schwengers reminded his hearers that the Victoria Chamber of Commerce had co-operated with the people of Cowichan in resisting the redistribution ferrying and would co-operate in fighting against the proposed action to close the government agency here.

Mr. H. D. Twigg, M.P.P., and Mr. J. C. Pendray also spoke for the visitors, the latter gentlemen dealing with the necessity for greater publicity in making known the attractions of the Island to the outside world.

Duncan Opinion
Mr. W. C. Tanner, vice-president of the local Board of Trade, spoke at some length and pledged the support of the district to the Island communities. He conveyed the regrets of Dr. D. E. Kerr, president of the Amalgamated Island Boards of Trade, at his inability to be present owing to ill-health.

Mr. C. H. Dickie, M.P.P., and Mr.

"Child's Eyelids Inflamed Stuck Together and Bled"

Mr. E. P. Kimball, Entwistle, Alta., writes: "Our little girl from birth was troubled with inflamed eyelids and in spite of several remedies, grew worse until at the age of sixteen months her eyes could not be opened after sleep without bleeding, a waxy discharge sticking the lids together and adhering with great tenacity. The child's grandmothers were consulted by mail, and both responded with a little sample box of Dr. Chase's Ointment. These were used as directed, and lasted until we could obtain a further supply from Edmonton. Improvement was very marked from the first application. The waxy discharge was easier removed and did not reappear. Inflammation subsided and has not returned."

HOPES THAT ARE VAIN

Its celebrated protocol having been adopted with reservations, the Assembly of the League of Nations will call a disarmament conference next year. What result can be achieved by a disarmament conference, as long as the manufacture of arms, ammunition, poison gas and other lethal agents is permitted within the confines of any nation? And have all the nations represented in the League of Nations the power to prevent the manufacture of such materials?

One of the biggest businesses in the United States is represented by the manufacturers of rifles, pistols and ammunition. Those things are in constant and daily use even in these piping times of peace. (We assume that the wars in China and in other places of no particular importance are not wars that should be given serious consideration.) Canadians are not particularly addicted to the use of firearms as offensive and defensive weapons, but we seem to be gradually acquiring the habit. Pistols are popping every day all over the United States. We believe there are laws prohibiting the carriage and use of revolvers; but revolvers are in constant use nevertheless. Therefore the United States cannot be disarmed, and the United States could speedily arm any power that should be overcome by an impulse to wage war upon a neighbor.

Consequently what can the average person of reasonable perspective power do but scoff at the resolutions and discussions in the Assembly of the League of Nations? We fear that the accomplishments of the Assembly are accurately summed up in a couple of sentences of the report rendered by a British delegate: "The Assembly proved a triumph as a display of the new democratic spirit which is abroad in the world. Never before have the delegates embraced and dined each other with the same sincere fervor."

MR. ERNEST MILLER

The Colonist, we know, will be permitted to extend its own and the sympathy of the entire community to the widow and family of Mr. Ernest Miller in their bereavement. Mr. Miller was a comparatively young man. He had a distinguished career at the bar and he had displayed great ability in the Legislature in the service of the people. As a politician he was intimately associated with the late Sir Richard McBride, from which association he may have acquired the rare tact and kindly courtesy for which he was noted. He was a keen but never a bitter political debater. He had a great number of friends both within and without his own political household, and if he had not been cut off in the prime of life, at a period when he was approaching the peak of his mental capacity, he might have rendered still more distinguished service to the community. His death will be deeply deplored by a large circle of friends in Victoria and in other parts of the Province, where he was well known and highly respected.

SOCIALISM, WHEAT, ETC.

The British Socialist Government attaches a great deal of importance to the treaty it has arranged with the government of the United Socialist Soviet Republic of Russia. It claims that Russia will supply British consumers with large quantities of wheat and other food products, and thus reduce the cost of living, and that the loan to be given Russia under a British guarantee will practically all be expended in Britain for the purchase of ships and agricultural machinery, thus providing work for the unemployed.

But an authority points out that Russia has practically no wheat for export; that all the wheat and rye she grows is needed to feed her own population; that she is not in the transportation business, and therefore has no need for ships; and that she never has been a heavy importer of machinery of any kind.

Furthermore, the authority in question states that Russian wheat is of a poor quality compared with the Canadian product, and is never likely to be considered a factor of any importance in markets which have learned by experience the value of discrimination in their selections of food. Consequently the Russian treaty may not prove such a very dainty dish after all when set before the sovereign people of Great Britain. It may not prove a decisive factor in the pending election. Canadian Number One Hard wheat cannot be beaten. The British consumer has a very discriminating appetite. He always insists upon being supplied with the best commodity procurable. If Mr. Ramsay MacDonald really believes that he can substitute an inferior quality of flour made from Russian wheat for a superior quality of flour made from Canadian wheat in order to make a political point and justify his peculiar

Canada's Story Day by Day

By HEDDOWEN DAVIES

THE FIGHTING ANIMAL

The nations may decide to beat their swords into cars, or something of that kind, and practice the art of war no more, but individuals in the nations seem determined to carry on little private wars on their own account.

In this part of the world and all around the coast and frontiers of North America private interests are making war against the provisions of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. Rum runners are running rum and other liquors across the border to supply a consuming thirst which appears to have been engendered by the provisions of the said Eighteenth Amendment. They are carrying on their unlawful occupation in armed vessels, and using the arms when attempts are made to arrest their vessels and confiscate their contents. The preventive craft are also armed, and are attempting to enforce the law by force of arms.

Then, to give additional zest to the situation, a force known as "Hi-Jackers" has been organized and is carrying on war against the warring rum-runners. Several lives have been lost and many casualties have resulted already from these operations.

Man apparently is a fighting animal as well as a laughing animal. That is one particular in which he is distinguishable and notable as compared with the rest of animal creation. Is the distinction greatly to his credit?

THE SABBATICAL YEAR

The London Times, we observe, has been discussing the highly interesting subject of the Sabbatical Year. We have to thank our friends of the Semitic race and the Jewish faith for the Sabbatical Day. We may not all agree upon the controversial matter of the proper observance of the Sabbatical Day, but we can all agree that that day, set apart as a day of rest for man and beast since the far-distant time when the Children of Israel were condemned to a period of wandering in the Wilderness, has been distinctly beneficial to the races which in part accepted and adopted the Mosaic code.

We regret the fact that it appears to be absolutely impossible for us to adopt the Sabbatical Year and to observe it. We are all too eager to do business and to accumulate reserves of money against a possible rainy day to do that. For our own part, we believe a Sabbatical Year would be a fine holiday to look forward to—a whole year in which to idle and dream of the things we might have accomplished but for the fates which were in league against our legitimate, honorable ambitions. What an alluring prospect to contemplate! And yet, after mature deliberation, we are not so sure about the attractions of this abdication. Old subscribers and young subscribers kick up a tremendous rumpus sometimes when they miss the paper one day in the week. There surely would be a perfect tempest if they missed the paper for a whole year. We fear the paper is not practicable. Our only consolation under the circumstances is that when we enter upon our Sabbatical Year of rest, it will be for a period far in excess of fifty-two weeks. Then the complaints of indignant subscribers and eager contributors will trouble us no more. Thus the reader will observe that even newspaper men have something to look forward to.

EVANGELISTIC SPORTS

Jack Johnson, at one time a pugilist of some renown and a great deal of notoriety, has mounted the pulpit and become an "evangelist." Evangelism seems to have a strong attraction in the United States for prize fighters after they have passed their prime. Jim Jeffries tried it, but appears to have been a failure at the business. Perhaps he was temperamentally unsuited for the work. Mr. Johnson thus far has not been an unqualified success either. The collection at one of his "shows" was so meagre that the preacher refused to proceed with his turn unless the plate was passed around a second time.

On the other hand, Billy Sunday, also a retired "sport," respecting whose sincerity there can be no doubt, inasmuch as when following the profession of baseball he always refused to play the game on Sundays, has been a very successful evangelist. Those whose business it is to fight the devil must always be given their due, or, as Billy himself would put it, "what is coming to them."

Mr. Johnson, evangelist, we observe, already has made one grievous mistake. He has introduced politics into the pulpit. And his political discourse has been repudiated by the politicians whose cause he advocated. The preacher appears to have overlooked the fact that it is written, "No man can serve two masters." Apparently politics and religion will not mix, even in the United States.

The British navy, once the pride of the British people where'er they wandered, has been reduced to a three-power, a two-power, and finally to a one-power, standard. A deputation of Liberals recently waited upon the Government and asked that the navy be subjected to a further reduction in strength. The Liberals appear to have become the most diminutive of all the Little Englanders. They are asking for something they will get during the coming elections.

Canada's Story Day by Day

By HEDDOWEN DAVIES

OCTOBER 11

It was in this month of 1824 that the first Canadian medical school was opened. Up to that time there had been no means whereby Canadian youths could study for the medical profession in their own country. The school then opened was known as the Montreal Medical Institute. In the same year it sought a charter under which it could grant degrees, but it was four years before it received a definite reply, and it was then unfavorable. The reason given was that the school was not associated with any seminary of learning. Eventually, or the establishment of McGill University, the Medical Institute was incorporated with it, and accorded the status due to it. Since then Canada has made enormous strides along lines of medical progress. Perhaps the most famous graduate of McGill Medical Faculty was Sir William Osler. He became a powerful influence in the progress of medicine, not alone in his own land but throughout the world. He was knighted in recognition of his services to mankind. Recent years have given Canada Dr. Baning, with his marvelous healing power as exemplified in insulin. Canada's medical standards have been high, and her sons have responded in no uncertain voice to her expectations.

The Exodus

Sir,—May I use the columns of The Colonist to thank the writers of more letters than I can answer separately concerning the exodus from our country?

In reply to them all, I cannot say that there is anything more to be said. I began by asking a question myself. None have answered it. To quote a couple of sentences from two letters: "Many of our patriots prefer to mope round home on a dole of unemployment rather than expatriate ourselves. What will become of us when, even at one stage of unemployment, the dole is spread thin to meet alien needs?"

The answer to that and all the other questions is, I do not know. "Our timber is the backbone of the country." Certainly, a few of the inexperienced have taken the advice of cheap trucks, quit burning off their logs. They are sawmills. Though I admit that without ill-advised, well-considered interference the industry will bring back our boys. In that case, the girls will not be driven to seek work in other places. I hope all may be well, but we must be patient.

CONSTANCE E. ALLEN.
Georges Harbor, B.C., October 9, 1924.

Cost of Taxation

Sir,—Under existing taxation the taxpayer is hoodwinked by the "broadening" of taxation, direct and indirect, as to the total amount paid. What concerns the "Victoria" taxpayer is not how many and varied taxes he pays or to how many governments; but how much of his net income, (or amount of money annually available for personal and family expenditure), has to be sacrificed for direct taxes in the aggregate, and how much this amount is unnecessarily swelled in the "broadening," the levying and collecting, and political manipulation and jugglery.

Any appreciable reduction in Dominion and Provincial taxation would have an equally beneficial effect upon the taxpayer and city interest, as from a reduction of the city taxes. This does not imply that our city taxes should not also be reduced where and when possible. This would naturally follow.

The politician has fooled the taxpayer into the belief that while the well-to-do can be reached by the more direct taxation, the only means by which the mass of the people can be made to contribute to the cost of government is by levying a lot of small, less-direct and indirect taxes. Through tax-free securities and other forms of evasion, connived at by political influence and corruption, an enormous amount of tax-income escapes taxation, to be made up by those of moderate means who are already overburdened by taxes, and by those still less fortunate whose income is below the minimum, further diminished by the numerous small indirect taxes affecting the cost of living. The fundamental principle of taxation is, that the unfortunate shall escape taxation direct or indirect. That those with a "net income" above the minimum shall contribute to the cost of government in just proportion.

Not a single valid argument can be offered in defense of the present system. Only the politician or others benefiting unfairly will attempt to argue against the substitution of a simple direct tax upon the citizen's ability to pay.

Why should it concern either of the three governments how a man makes his income, as long as he lawfully made, whether from business, land, improvements, investments, salary or wages?

As it is easier and less expensive to levy and collect one tax than fourteen, so the leakage, possibility of evasion, and of juggling will be less, and the possibility of detection greater.

The "net income tax," freed from political administration on business principles, can be made practically evasion-proof, by requiring each citizen to keep a stereotyped ledger account of his receipts and expenditures, and to submit an annual declaration of "net income," safeguarded by a heavy penalty for evasion or misrepresentation, and subject to investigation at any time without notice by the tax auditor before mentioned.

A. J. MOHLEY,
1244 Montrose Avenue, October 8, 1924.

One Thing Needed
Sir,—A writer, in a recent issue of a prominent magazine holds the theory that travel will bring about world peace. He contends that if more people would visit foreign countries and spread the gospel of good-fellowship, world-wide brotherly love will be the natural result.

The same idea, I believe, is what we need in our own Province. Not for the purpose of suppressing war, but to encourage business within our borders and to enlighten the average citizen on the wonderful opportunities that cry out for recognition and development in all parts of British Columbia. It is astonishing how little the most of us know about the mineral riches that our Province possesses. Also in a commercial way the cities of Vancouver and Victoria are not getting the amount of business they are entitled to. Two-thirds of the money sent out for supplies from Northern British Columbia goes to Edmonton and to the United States.

In Hyder, Alaska, one evening I happened to be in a store when a gentleman was making a purchase. He was a new arrival, having come that day from Portland, Oregon. In paying for the goods he gave a twenty-dollar bill, and his change, which was considerable, was tendered to him all in Canadian currency. He objected, "Well," said the merchant, "that is the only kind of money we get here. In fact, Canadian money keeps Hyder on the move."

There is a Canadian town close by, but American money is very scarce in it.

What is needed is personal contact and a greater knowledge of the vastness and wealth of our natural resources. Why should Canadian money keep Hyder, Alaska, on the map? We have lots of use in Canada for all our own money. We have the goods to sell and we have the labor needing employment. But if the Americans are quicker to see the possibilities of our mining properties than we are and invest therein, as they do; if wholesale houses in Seattle send messengers to Hyder and keep those stores well stocked with the goods most in demand; if a road comes into Northern British Columbia from the United States and is permitted to work in Canadian mines and logging camps, and then returns to the American side with its earnings, why naturally we will get little benefit from the development of Northern British Columbia.

If we would invest more freely and show greater interest in our mining properties and timber industries; if our business firms would send men into the frontier regions with good, honest Canadian merchandise; if our unemployed were induced to seek the new places of our great, rich Northland, then the cities of British Columbia would reap the benefits from the building up of this Province that they rightly should.

CHINESE STUDENTS LIKE U.S. TOO WELL

Peking Government Betrays Unconscious Lust American Influence Become Too Strong in Future

PEKING, Oct. 10.—The American Legation has taken cognizance of an apparently authentic report that the ministry of education has issued instructions to authorities in the provinces to cut down the quota of students to be sent to America. "In recent years there has been too many private students going to America," the ministry is quoted as having said in its communication to the provinces. "During the last eighteen months the number is equal to sixty-seven per cent of the total number of students going abroad. The reason why most of the students go to America is that they easily obtain admission into American colleges where they become special students. In two or three years they return to China, being considered to have graduated."

"Although there are not a few who go to the United States to obtain a real education, a majority so simply to get a degree. Even if the standard of education in the United States is higher than in other countries, the study of students should be restricted, otherwise it may result in the setting up of a special intellectual influence in the country."

"Since with the enforcement of the new American immigration law there is the more reason to check Chinese students from going there. Beginning this year, the majority in the quota of government students going abroad should be filled by those desirous of pursuing their studies in Europe."

JUDGMENT GIVEN IN MOTOR BUS CASE

Judge Lampan Finds Responsibility in Connection With Accident by Collision—Damages Awarded

A decision has been handed down in the County Court in trial of Barrieu vs. Gorge Motor Bus Company and Southwell vs. Gorge Motor Bus Company. Judge Lampan's finding is that in the case of Barrieu the company was negligent, and damages are given the plaintiff to the amount of $148.24. In the second action it is found that both were negligent, and that the cause of the accident was imprudence of the truck while coming down hill. The bus company, he found, was entitled to $750 damages.

His Honor did not think it was open to the bus company to escape its responsibility to Barrieu, however, on the ground that the injury would not have been inflicted if the driver of the truck had not also been negligent.

Leave was granted to introduce the evidence of the accident, but the bus company will have to pay the costs occasioned. Mr. R. H. Pooley appeared for Barrieu; Mr. W. H. Shandley for Southwell; and Mr. J. A. Alkman for the Gorge Motor Bus Company.

CARLETON, Ill., Oct. 10.—Four robbers entered the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad station early today, held up the night telegraph operator, Walter Hayes, and escaped with a pouch of first class mail and $22,000, after holding up the operator at the depot in Sandoval, fourteen miles east of here. The amount stolen at Sandoval was not learned.

VIOLATORS OF AUTO REGULATIONS FINED

Police Court Disposes of Several Charges at Sitting Yesterday Morning

In the police court yesterday morning Magistrate Jay disposed of a number of cases of violation of the regulations relative to autos and chauffeurs. One offender had had his auto parked in front of the Capitol Theatre. He admitted the offence and paid a fine of $5. For omitting to wear the badge of a licensed chauffeur a further fine of $5 was imposed.

A Chinese auto owner had improperly had his auto parked in the vicinity of the Columbia Theatre. In explanation of this violation of the regulations he said that he knew the rules and would not have committed the offence had he been in charge of the machine. His sister-in-law from Vancouver had the car, however, on this day and had followed the rules that were observed in the Terminal City. Another $5 fine came to the city.

A bicycle rider had made a hurried trip to a drug store without a light. He paid $3 into court. One charge of being drunk was before the court. The accused was fined $25.

INQUEST ON MONDAY TO PROBE FATALITY

Hellier Winnipeg Woman Victim Died From Effects of Overdose of Sleeping Powder

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, has ordered an inquest to commence at 11 o'clock Monday morning in order to determine the cause of the death in hospital late Thursday night of Mrs. Julia Perry, an elderly resident of Winnipeg, Manitoba, who had been visiting in Victoria, and who died, it is believed, following the taking of an overdose of some drug used as a sleeping powder.

The late Mrs. Perry was found in her room in a downtown apartment house late Thursday afternoon unconscious. At first it was thought she was sleeping, but when she could not be awakened, Dr. Hart was summoned, and she was removed to the Royal Jubilee Hospital. Dr. Hart had nothing to say regarding the case last night.

Mrs. Perry registered at the apartment house last Monday, and gave her home address as Winnipeg. She was not in the best of health, and presumably, she came to Victoria in an effort to improve it. A son, Mr. P. J. Perry, of Winnipeg, has been notified by the authorities, and is expected to arrive in the city early next week.

A violin of aluminum, said to include the tones of the cello in its range, has been tested.

MAN IS RELEASED, THEN REARRESTED

McADAM WALKS FROM COURT TO BRIEF FREEDOM

Crown Quashes Old Indictments—Will Proceed With New Ones at Next Assize Sitting

Yesterday afternoon the Assize Court was concluded, the three remaining cases, Rex vs. McAdam, Rex vs. McNaughton and Rex vs. Eastman, standing over until the next sitting of the court. This decision was not reached until after 4 o'clock, when all jurymen and witnesses were released from further attendance at the court.

Mr. Robert Cassidy, K.C., counsel for McAdam, whose trial was to come up at once, had the assizes been proceeded with, objected to the traverse of these cases until the next assize unless reasons were given for such a course that were satisfactory. No explanation was advanced on behalf of the Crown. Mr. Cassidy further argued that the Crown should bear the expense that would ensue to his client through having to appear at this court and that he should not be required to stay in jail awaiting another assize but should be allowed out on his own recognizance. The Crown, however, announced that it was prepared to quash the existing indictments and proceed with new ones at the next sitting.

In spite of the protest of Mr. Cassidy, the Crown carried out this plan, and accordingly when the assizes closed the accused became a free man.

Rearrest Accused
His freedom was of very short duration, however, for he was immediately rearrested on leaving the court house and is now in the custody of the Provincial police.

With respect to the other two cases, Mr. Stuart Henderson, who appeared as counsel for the accused in each of them, said that as far as the proposal to quash the indictments was concerned any action by the Crown would have to be taken on the responsibility of the Crown. "I wash my hands of it," he said. He never agreed with the proceeding nor was he going to object. He would reserve all rights with respect to the proceedings.

Bail was arranged in both cases in order to extend over until the next assize. At the close of the sitting yesterday forenoon, when adjournment was taken until 4 o'clock in the afternoon in order that bail might be arranged. His Lordship referred to the fact that adjournments were so frequent that he was becoming used to them. The court told Mr. Cassidy to be prepared for the next sitting as "you don't know what may happen then."

He, however, intimated to Mr. Jackson that any change in front on the part of the Crown should be communicated to Mr. Cassidy. When the final session was held in the afternoon, Mr. Cassidy might fairly be said to have been left at the post. He was evidently prepared to continue his argument at length but before he was allowed to do so, the announcement of adjournment since die was made, and Mr. Cassidy was left bewildered.

Gives No Reasons
In spite of the efforts of Mr. Cassidy to get the reason for the traversing of the cases, the Crown counsel failed to reveal it. It is, however, said that there was no reluctance on the part of the Crown to the quashing of the indictments as these were held to be defective.

When the court assembled yesterday morning, Mr. Justice W. A. McDonald said that after careful consideration he had come to the conclusion that if the Crown gave good reason for the traversing of the cases to another assize it should be granted. Mr. M. B. Jackson, K.C., for the Crown, said that he was prepared to say that the indictments would be quashed and that as far as the accused were concerned they would not be placed in any worse position than that in which they now stood.

Mr. Cassidy objected. The court asked Mr. Cassidy if he had any authority to show that Justice Attorney-General could not intervene at any time during a proceeding. Mr. Jackson suggested that surely Mr. Cassidy was not objecting to the quashing of the conviction in which his client was concerned. To this Mr. Cassidy replied that he was concerned in seeing that justice was administered in a proper manner.

Mr. C. Drummond-Hay to provide a home and education for the eldest girl until fortune again smiled on the family was likewise declined.

"Mrs. Ellington was simply too sick, too over-wrought, to listen to such proposals," Mr. Landsberg told The Colonist.

Ellington was badly gassed and shell-shocked at the front. He was at first given a pension of $25 a month. This was later cut to $15 a month. He commuted his pension for a lump sum from the Government to raise money with which to bring his wife to Victoria in accordance with a Calgary doctor's orders. In Calgary he was employed, not in the Hudson's Bay Company store, as it was mistakenly reported yesterday, but as a waiter in a hotel restaurant.

Suspended Sentence
In the city police court yesterday morning, when Ellington came before Magistrate Jay for sentence following his conviction on a charge of rifling Mitchell & Duncan's window of more than $4,000 worth of jewels in a fit of desperation, he found the court in a very bad mood.

The magistrate, in announcing that the man would be allowed out on suspended sentence, wished it understood that unlawful acts, such as that committed by Ellington, were not to be excused, and the course taken should not in any way be thought to set a precedent. He alluded to the splendid spirit that had been manifested by Messrs. Mitchell & Duncan in their efforts to have leniency shown towards the accused, although they had suffered loss in having the store window broken.

During the proceedings the fact was brought out that this was not a solitary instance in the city and the environs. There were other unfortunate people who stood in need of help.

Mr. C. L. Harrison, the prosecutor, in referring to this, called attention to the need of some systematic work being carried out here to provide the means of livelihood for those in need of assistance. He suggested that something like the West Coast road should be put under construction, so that unemployed could be provided with the necessities of life during the winter season.

Gives Blood to Woman
Evidence was adduced on behalf of the accused to show that he was a returned man who had suffered from shell shock, and who from time to time had "spells" that were somewhat unusual. He was, however, very fond of his wife and family, and when he had work contributed all possible to their support. He did not want charity but work. It was also put in evidence that about a year ago, while in Calgary, he had given a quart of blood in order to save the life of a woman.

Germany Makes Effective Dawes Reparation Plan

PARIS, Oct. 10.—The Dawes plan for the payment of reparations by Germany, a settlement of the imbricgo which has kept Europe upset ever since the war, became virtually effective today when the Germans handed over to the reparation commission, industrial railroad debentures totalling 16,000,000 gold marks, and the commission approved the contract signed London for the $200,000,000 gold marks loan to Germany. The appointment of Thomas Nelson Perkins, of a Boston law firm, to act with the commission on the execution of the plan, completed the preliminaries. The formal announcement that the Dawes plan is in effect, however, was delayed until Monday.

NO APPLICATION FOR INCORPORATION

Charter for Company to Take Over Home Bank Assets Not Yet Issued by Department

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—No application has yet been received by the Secretary of State for the chartering of a company to take over the assets of the Home Bank and it is understood here that action, when taken, will create a new departure on the liquidation of banks.

The Companies Act, under which the charter is reported to be applied for, is altogether silent on the subject of the winding up of a bank. It contains no specific permission for such a course, nor does it contain a specific prohibition. The application, when received by the Department of State, will be scrutinized to see whether it comes within the four corners of the Act, and if it does so, it is expected that the charter will be granted.

PROCEDURE IN LIQUOR CASES IS QUESTIONED

Appeal Court Rescues Judgment on Issuance of Warrants on Complaints Under the Act

VANCOUVER, Oct. 10.—Should a complainant under the Government Liquor Act, on oath to a magistrate or justice of the peace, give reasons for suspecting an offence had been committed preliminary to a warrant for arrest being issued?

This is a question upon which the Court of Appeals has reserved judgment. It is the appeal of Charlie Bovero, whose counsel is Gordon Sloan. A six months' sentence in Okalla jail had been imposed on Bovero by Magistrate Shaw for selling liquor.

In this case the complainant had stated to the justice of peace, who issued a warrant for Bovero's arrest, that he "had just cause to suspect that he" Bovero "was selling liquor." The point is whether he should have amplified his reasons. The contention, if upheld, would revolutionize police court proceedings.

TOURIST TIPS
When preparing for an extended tour it is well to carry an extra gallon of engine oil in the car, also a small can of grease. Sometimes an accident occurs which causes a loss of the main supply of oil, making it impossible to drive even a mile without an extra supply. Likewise, if the gasoline tank is not provided with an emergency tank or chamber, an extra gallon of gasoline should be carried. Convenient emergency tanks for this purpose may be secured at any accessory store.

Some Women Are Discontented Because They Do Not Know What to Do With Them- selves, Says Julia Hoyt.

America's Women More Unhappy Than Europe's

More Women Work in America Than in Any Other Country, and This Should Make for Happiness, Thinks Writer, Who Answers Her Own Question, With Reservations, in the Negative—Content- ment Is Essentially Being Interested in Life, Is Conclusion

(By JULIA HOYT)

(Copyright, 1924, in United States and Canada by North American Newspaper Syndicate)

A WELL-KNOWN Frenchman, on his first visit to America, was asked what first came to his mind when he thought of American women. He answered that his first thought was that most of them looked ex- tremely tired and discontented.

This interested me, as anything in- teresting that strikes near home, once was discontented though, sup- posedly, I should not have been. Therefore, the question of what in general makes for contentment or dis- contentment has always been to me one of great interest.

I wonder if it is true that to the average foreigner we give the impres- sion of unrest, of discontent? I am an American and, naturally, cannot see with the eyes of a stranger, and yet I should rather doubt that Ameri- can women as a whole are discon- tented or look so. There are certain conditions of American life which might make for discontentment. But it seems to me that there are other conditions which should make it easier for American women to be con- tent than the women of any other country.

Work Without Excitement

To make my self clear, I must tell that I believe that I have discovered how to achieve contentment—that is, contentment, as distinct from absolute happiness. There are few to whom the gods give that. My recipe for contentment consists of two ingredi- ents: A work or essential interest for every day and what should be the natural reaction—an independence from the search for hectic excitement. There are more women in America doing jobs, working, than in any other country, but I'm afraid that we must acknowledge that, curiously, contentment, a boredom with the simple pleasures of life that does not exist in other countries. There is no doubt that the women of society, the women who have no jobs, know less about living than people of any other country. But they are a comparatively small minority. They may be, and they have brains which they do not use. They have a desire for excitement, which they allow to lie dormant.

The Life of the Mind

Contentment, I am convinced, comes from a day interestingly passed, from a job well done, from a satisfaction in being fulfilled. Contentment is not physical, it is not material, it is purely mental. Also, it is something that is within the power of all of us to achieve. By content- ment I do not mean being sleepily stolid, or desire for progress. On the con- trary, ambition, the desire for force which makes us care enough something to fight to achieve it, is one of the greatest sources of real con- stantness.

Contentment Does Not Mean Death, but Life. It Does Not Mean Days Lack- ing in Disappointments and Tribula- tions; It Means Vitality, Interest, Being

But Tanlac Quickly Built Toronto Woman Up to Normal.

Adding her voice to the 100,000 or more who have spoken out in behalf of the merits of Tanlac, Mrs. Paul Pekeski, 124 Medland Street, To- ronto, Ont., says:

"If I could talk with everybody who is not feeling right I would cer- tainly urge them to try Tanlac. A year ago I was taken down with in- fluenza which left me in an awful run-down condition. I was sick with a terrible hurting in my stomach, had no appetite, suffered all the time with pains in my back, was ex- tremely nervous and dizzy, and had headaches that nearly drove me wild. "Tanalac was the first and only thing that did me any good. Since taking this grand medicine I eat and sleep like a child and feel fine. In fact, I am now enjoying the best of health and will always praise Tan- lac."

Tanalac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

University Women Go to International Congress

President of Canadian Federation Discusses Position of Women in Commerce—Scandinavian Convention Defeats Motion Favoring Finance as Career for University Women—Fashion Displays in London Reveal No Striking Novelties

(A LONDON LETTER, BY ELIZABETH MONTIZAMBERT)

LONDON. (By Mail)—The latter part of the London season was long things that happened in August were lost from view when everybody was supposed to be either deer stalking or salmon fishing. The departure of Professor Caroline Spurgeon, president of the British Federation of University Women, and of Lady Thondra, to attend the international Congress of University women at Christiania towards the end of August was duly noted, but the echo of the battle that was waged there did not pass unheeded. Mrs. W. Vaughan, president of the Canadian Federation of University Women, has just returned to London, en route for Canada. She tells me that one of the topics on the agenda was the encouragement of university women to enter the field, for which they are popularly supposed to be so unfitted, of high finance and commerce, and to pay more attention generally to the practical side of life. This idea was strongly advocated by Prof. Caroline Spurgeon, and supported by Lady Thondra, who, in the speech she made in London, eloquently urged the case for women taking up finance as a career, using the unlovely phrase that "Money is power."

Motion Defeated

The situation that ensued was one of extraordinary interest. It wasn't a straw showing which way the wind blew, at any rate in Scandinavian countries. It was as a stout weather vane. The next morning a French delegate rose to reply, and made a passionate protest against the adoption of the idea that the power of money is greater than the power of brains plus ideals, saying it was not the kind of power for which university women should seek. This financial idea was definitely abandoned by the meeting of these intelligent women from all over the world, for the general sentiment of the meeting was far more concerned with the larger question of the formation of an international mind with higher ideals. European women with their versatile training are definitely not concerned with practical careers. They mean to be the Marys of the world, and leave women of lesser attainments to be Marthas. They are intensely interested in intellectual matters, and what they have to spare from the pursuit of the sciences to make valuable contributions they give to political affairs.

The keynote of the conference was the idea of raising large sums for international scholarships so that university women may be free to go and continue their studies in various countries. Mrs. Vaughan was impressed by the high standing and intellectual attainment of the members of the congress. In Scandinavia there is evidently a great respect for learning, for the visitors were entertained by a great variety of people, including Her Majesty the Queen, the king, and every arrangement was made for the comfort and entertainment of the visitors throughout their stay.

Autumn Fashions

A fashion show in one of the salons of the big London dressmakers is a very amusing thing. I was induced to go to several this afternoon, for the dressmakers are as bad as the theatrical managers and insist on having their "openings" on the same day. This information I gleaned from these various sources is that there is no epoch-making novelty in sight. The most marked feature of the Autumn clothes is the long straight tunic, sometimes heavily embroidered at the edge and then bordered with fur, sometimes airtight in the middle, almost as far as where the waist used to be in the days when they existed, to give an excuse for a narrow embroidery in Oriental colors, but always descending to within a few inches of the same color and material of the longish coat with very big collar and cuffs with which the tunic is worn. It is a frock for the slim. What the woman of generous proportions is going to wear is quite evidently a matter of complete indifference to the high priestesses and priests. As each mannequin trailed slowly in she seemed taller and more slender, and if possible prettier, than her predecessor.

Each firm had its little specialty in the way of accessories. The mannequins who were enhancing the models of one establishment by their airs and graces carried business-like walking sticks when they strolled in, wearing the latest thing in tailormade, while their counterparts in another house all swung from a silken cord the last Parisian novelty in the way of tiny round lacquered vanity boxes attached to an enormous tassel. One firm assured me that very little black would be worn, but there would be a revival of dark blue and close adherence to brown through all the gamut from chestnut to copper, fading out to tobacco and cinnamon.

EGYPTIAN GROESUS PRISONER 26 YEARS

Prince Ahmed Seifeddin, Multi-Millionaire, Now in Lunatic Asylum Near London

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Langenshain in an insane asylum here is a multi-millionaire Egyptian nobleman, who considers himself a modern Monte Cristo. The man is His Highness Prince Ahmed Seifeddin, one-time brother-in-law of King Fuad of Egypt, and the possessor of an income of more than $500,000 a year. For twenty-two years he has been kept in an asylum in the outskirts of London, with only an occasional outing in an automobile, and before that in a four-wheeled prison sentance in Egypt for attempting to shoot King Fuad, then Prince Fud.

Prince Ahmed is descended from Ibrahim Pasha, second son of Mehmet Ali, who in the days of the great Napoleon conquered Egypt by intrigue and battle. His sister was married to Prince Fud. In 1898, after she had told him something about her husband which enraged him, Prince Ahmed seized a revolver and fired at his brother-in-law, wounding the latter.

He was arrested, tried by an Egyptian court for attempted murder, and sentenced to seven years' penal servitude. This term was afterward reduced to four years. In addition, he had to pay the expenses of Prince Fud's illness, which cost nearly $10,000.

After serving his sentence in an Egyptian prison, Prince Ahmed was brought to England, declared insane and placed in the asylum, where he has been ever since. Prince Fud had meanwhile divorced Prince Ahmed's sister, and she disappears from the story.

But there is an aged woman living in London, who, long for the return of her son, and has never ceased to work for his release from the asylum. Time after time she applied to the British Government, but without success. Now that Egypt is, at least nominally, an independent country, she is trying to gain their support for her son's release.

Prince Ahmed's devoted companion in the asylum in his English man-servant, The Prince's vast estates in Egypt are larger than an English county and bring him a yearly revenue of more than $500,000. Ever since his confinement, his property has been officially administered for him.

SAYS MODERN WOMEN EXCEL THE MEN FOLK

Edward Carpenter Celebrates 80th Birthday With Praise of Twentieth Century Girl

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The modern girl, whose ways not infrequently shock her elders nowadays, has a staunch defender in Edward Carpenter, the poet and philosopher, who renounced wealth and position half a century ago to become a Socialist pioneer.

Four score years have given Mr. Carpenter ample opportunities for observing the ways of women, and he now celebrates his eightieth birthday with a paean in praise of the girl of the twentieth century. "While I am overwhelmed at the incapacity of the average man, I have nothing but admiration for the modern woman," said Mr. Carpenter. "She is a marvelous product of the age."

"I remember the women of the last generation and their limited lives. Dabbling with water colors, doing a little embroidery, and having no opinions whatever used to be considered not only a suitable, but the only life for a girl. In those days, if a girl had opinions on anything more important than her dresses, she was considered a freak by other girls, and heavily sat on by the married women."

"The war offered the opportunity at the psychological moment for woman to find her freedom. Now all the problems that she has to face arise from the fact that she is obliged to conform to certain standards that were intended for a totally different creature, the woman of yesterday."

"One of the most striking differences between this generation and the last is the way in which women say what they mean with what used to be masculine directness. They once seemed to make a point of saying what they did not mean. I never knew why this was so."

"Altogether this is a hopeful age. Things are moving in the right direction, towards more freedom and a more sensible outlook. The curse of the age is lack of seriousness. I believe women will do much towards putting the world straight again."

Mindanao Now Prepared To Enter Rubber Market

MANILA, Oct. 10.—Actual quantity production of crude rubber for the market will start in Cotabato province, Island of Mindanao, within a month. It was announced today. A shipment of machinery for a rubber plant was made recently from Zamboanga to Cotabato, consigned to the Rio Grande Rubber Estate at Kabacan, Cotabato, and it is expected the installation will be made by the end of August. The company has a large number of trees just maturing and expects to add 250,000 acres. It already has a considerable acreage which will mature within a few years. While small shipments of crude rubber have been made from the Philippines for several years, they have attracted little attention in the market.

NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

Johnson Comes Through With Thrilling Victory

Washington Senators Win World's Baseball Series, Defeating New York Giants in Deciding Game by Four to Three—American Capital Goes Wild With Excitement at End of Most Remarkable Series in Game's History

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The miracle of baseball, the dream of forty years, came true this afternoon, when Washington won the baseball championship of the world from the New York Giants, in the most thrilling dramatic climax that any diamond series has ever seen.

Out of the depths of two crushing defeats, Walter Johnson, one of the greatest pitchers the game has ever known and idolized, came back to the heights and reached his goal, the end of the eighteen-year trial, by leading the Senators to victory by a score of 4-3 in twelve innings of spectacular, pulse-grIPPING baseball. And when Earl McNulty, young outfielder from the Pacific Coast, drove in "Muddy" Ruel with the winning run, after the mighty bat of "Bucky" Harris had kept the Senators in their greatest fight, the rookie also drove a vast crowd of more than 10,000 that included President and Mrs. Coolidge, into an outburst of victory-inspired frenzy unprecedented in the history of the national game.

Excitement intense. The crack of McNulty's bat was the match that set fire to a conflagration of enthusiasm, a whirlwind of excitement which swept the multitude which crowded on the field and rushed wildly for the dugout of the winning team and gave unrestrained vent to spirits which, first through a victorious American League campaign and then through one of the most memorable battles of all time, had been whipped to fever pitch.

President and Mrs. Coolidge, watching their third game, clapped and waved their hands with the enthusiasm of the most ardent fans. Men and women, many of them prominently known throughout the country, joined the rabid throng of fans in that tumultuous outburst. Fashionably dressed women hugged one another in joy; cheer leaders sprang up as if by magic, while hats were thrown about. For more than an hour after the game, the crowd swirled about the field and clubhouse, where the Senators were making a continual oration and nearly mobbed.

Remarkable Series. Never has baseball's premier crown been won under circumstances so remarkable as those this afternoon in the seventh and deciding game, a series that has swayed back and forth with brilliancy, uncertainty until the last thrilling moment. Not since the famous series of 1912 have American and National League rivals fought with such tenacity and courage, for the title, and, oddly enough, it was the Giants who went down to defeat this time as they did twelve years ago before the Boston Red Sox.

"Bucky" Harris, 27 years old, and the youngest manager to the top, was a dominant flaming figure in his team's triumph, and gained through the brilliance of his tactics and individual play, a place in baseball that few leaders have ever held.

Senators—Mrs. Coolidge applauded Magridge as he walked to the bench. McNulty fanned. Harris got a home run into left field stands. President Coolidge and the whole crowd around and cheered. The President continued to applaud for a minute or more after Harris had circled the bases. Wilson made a shoestring catch of Rios's drive. Terry took Goetz's grounder and beat him to the bag. One run, one hit, no errors.

Fifth Inning.

Giants—Harris raced into centre and took Goetz's pop. Blagoe threw out Barnes. He went over behind second to take Barnes' grounder. Lindstrom hit into left for two bases. Goetz took Frisch's drive. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Senators—Judge went out on a fly to Barnes. Jackson threw out Blagoe at first. Taylor struck out on strikes. Barnes threw curve after curve to the Senators and in five innings had only allowed one hit. No runs, no hits, one error.

Sixth Inning.

Giants—The crowd cheered when Walter Johnson went out into right field to talk to Marberry. Young walked. Kelly singled into centre field. Young went to third. Meusel batted for Terry. As soon as Meusel came to the bat Manager Harris replaced Magridge with Marberry. The Senators infield played back. Meusel flied out to Rice. Young scored on the catch. Kelly held first. Wilson singled to centre. Kelly going to third. Barnes threw curve to Meusel. Meusel juggled Jackson's grounder. Wilson caught to second and Jackson being safe at first. Wilson scored when Goetz's grounder went through Blagoe. Jackson went to third on the error. Barnes lined out to Rice. Jackson holding third. Lindstrom fanned. Three runs, two hits, two errors.

Senators—Kelly went to first. Wilson went into centre and Meusel went to left field. Lindstrom threw out Ruel. Lindstrom also threw out Marberry. McNulty flied out to Young. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning.

Giants—Ruel took Frisch's foul leaning over a field box to make the play. Young walked. Taylor took Kelly's difficult grounder and threw him out. Young went to second. Marberry took Meusel's grounder and

RUGBY LEAGUES TO OPEN TODAY

SENIORS WILL PLAY DOUBLE-HEADER

Total of Five Games to Be Staged on Local Grounds Between Teams in Good Condition

Five senior and intermediate rugby games are on the card for the opening of the season today. At the Willows a doubleheader will be staged, the Tillamook meeting the United Services at 2:30 p.m., while the J.B.A.A. and Oak Bay Wanderers will clash immediately following. Two intermediate games will be played at the Cranmore Road grounds, the first between the United Services and Victoria College, at 2 o'clock, the second, the J.B.A.A. and Oak Bay Wanderers, starting at 2:30 p.m. and the University grounds the Normal School and Brentwood College will lock horns.

It is expected that one of the largest crowds in past years will be on hand to witness the official opening of the season. The weather for the past week or so has put the grounds in fine shape, and should the bright sunshine that has been prevalent for the last ten days hold, a record crowd should watch the matches.

The first game of the senior matches, between the Tillamook and the United Services, should provide a close contest. Both of these teams have been out practicing hard for the past month and are reported to have strong fifteen-men. The Services will have a team comprised entirely of players from the Army and Navy and some experienced rugby players are in their line-up. Little is known of the Tillamook, the new club in the league, but Skipper Venable is confident that his team will be able to give a good account of themselves.

The second game

The second game will be between the J.B.A.A., last year's champions, and the Oak Bay Wanderers. These clubs have had some very close games during the last season and are considered to be about equal in strength. During the past season the Jays took all of the games by a slight margin, and the Wanderers are entertaining high hopes of reversing the decision this year.

Rugby well-balanced teams comprise the intermediate league, and prospects for the year seem very favorable. All teams are in excellent shape for the opening and some tight games are expected.

The result of the ruling which has been of considerable trouble to local referees over the passing of the ball off the ground, was decided at a meeting of the Vancouver Referees' Board at a special meeting on Thursday night. It is the intention of the local union to set the same as in the National league, and the following interpretations were decided upon:

"If a player in possession of the ball is grasped by an opponent on a slight margin, and the following interpretations were decided upon:

WHITCOMBE WINS

WEYBRIDGE, England, Oct. 10.—R. Whitcombe, crack English professional golfer, runner-up to Walter Hagen in the British open this year, defeated George Gadd 3 up and 2 to play in the final of the News of the World 1750 tournament played here today. The winner of this tournament is usually regarded as the British professional champion of the season at match play.

Whitcombe, 34, of Weybridge, Surrey, had a very fine day, winning the first two holes in four and three, she dropped the third, which was her only really bad hole in the round, taking a seven through pulling her drive into the "serpentine" bunker, but she regained her two-hole lead when she won the fourth with a par three. The fifth and sixth were halved, and Mrs. Philbrick won the seventh by sinking a long putt for a five. Mrs. Armstrong just missing one of about equal length on the eighth, Mrs. Philbrick missed a short putt for a four after making a very fine approach, and the hole was halved in Mrs. Philbrick's favor. On the ninth, Mrs. Philbrick was almost dead to the pin and made no mistake with her putt this time for a three. At the tenth each was on the green in three, but Mrs. Philbrick had a comparatively short putt which she sank for a par four, this making her five up.

This was the last hole that she won. Five up and eight to play, the eleventh and twelfth were each halved in her favor. At the thirteenth each had a line drive down the middle. Mrs. Armstrong was on in two, while Mrs. Philbrick was short for once and took a strong with her approach putt, losing with a five to four.

A Fine Drive. At the fourteenth, the dog-leg hole, Mrs. Armstrong failed to reach the corner with her drive, while Mrs. Philbrick opened it up nicely. Neither reached the green in three, Mrs. Philbrick being behind the trap on the right of the green and Mrs. Armstrong being in the trap to the left. The next shots were within an almost equal distance of the hole. Mrs. Philbrick was away and her ball stopped on the lip of the cup. Mrs. Armstrong sank hers to win the hole.

Two splendid drives on the fifteenth put the two balls almost equidistant from the green. Mrs. Armstrong played a nice narrow shot well on, and Mrs. Philbrick narrowly missed going through the green and down the bank. She was too strong with her approach putt and left a rather long one for a four, but made it and halved the hole. A half was all that she needed at the sixteenth to win the match, and she got this in three after sending her tee shot in to the bunker.

The Medal Series. Mrs. Philbrick. Out 4 3 7 5 5 5 5 3 4 10. Mrs. Armstrong. Out 6 4 6 4 5 5 5 4 4 45. Mrs. Philbrick. In 6 5 2 4 5 4 3 3 9. The final of the first flight was won by Mrs. Patterson by two and one, after a hard fight with Mrs. Parry, and in the final of the fourth flight Mrs. Harris beat Mrs. Pierce four and three.

At the conclusion of play the prizes were presented to the winners by Mrs. Sanders, ladies' captain of the Uplands Golf Club.

Great appreciation was expressed by the ladies of outside clubs for the excellent arrangements made at Uplands for the tournament. The ladies have been very lucky this year in the weather, which has been ideal for golf all through, while the beautiful Uplands course has been in the very best condition throughout, thanks to the skilful and unrelenting attention bestowed on it by Mr. Savidant, and his staff of expert groundmen.

C. P. R. EARNINGS. MONTREAL, Oct. 10.—Canadian Pacific Railway earnings for the week ended October 7 were $44,838,000, a decrease of $578,000.

WITNESS BREAKS DOWN ON STAND

Thomas Gibbs Gives Way to Tears Under Cross-examination in Home Bank Case

In the trial of Clarence F. Smith, Home Bank director, this morning, Thomas Gibbs, assistant chief accountant of the Home Bank, broke down and wept under cross-examination by Gordon Waldron after he had testified: "I wish I had never seen the Home Bank."

Gibbs had just told of refusing to make certain entries for the statement of information from which the annual report of the bank was made. Gibbs said he objected to putting the Western Canada Pulp & Paper Company security down as a bank asset. G. F. Smith, the chief accountant, put in this item after Gibbs had refused, and it was contained in the annual statement. As well as telling Smith that this account was bad, witness said he may also have told M. Calvert. He said that he felt his position keenly, and that since the failure he had received numerous letters blaming him.

It was at this point that the witness broke down.

"Had you any suspicions as to the stability of the bank?" asked Mr. Waldron.

Between sobs he said that he had, because he did not like the looks of certain securities, including the Ogilvie and Manufacturers' Holdings.

"You told nobody your conclusions?"

"No, because I was bound to secrecy by the rules of the bank, and I was loyal to them."

APPROVE SITE FOR HISTORIC MEMORIAL

Oak Bay Council Selection in Oak Bay Park Will Commemorate Explorers—Will Top Hill

On behalf of the Historical Sites Committee and the B.C. Historical Association, a delegation yesterday visited Gonzales Hill to look at some ground which the Oak Bay Council has very kindly set aside in Oak Bay Park at the request of Judge Howay, a representative of both the above-mentioned organizations. The site chosen, on which it is proposed to place a cairn which will commemorate the early explorers of the Straits of Juan de Fuca, is the highest pinnacle on the hill with the exception of the actually occupied by the Observatory, and measures twenty-five feet square. The delegation made a careful survey of the situation, found that the spot was as conspicuous as any that might have been selected, and stamped the choice with the sanction of their approval. This is the first site selected in Victoria by the Historic Sites Committee.

Headed by Judge Howay, the delegation comprised Prof. Sage, Vancouver; Mr. C. C. Pemberton, Victoria; Mr. J. Forsythe, Provincial architect; Mr. Fowler, engineer of the Oak Bay Council; and Mr. Streiffeld, member of the Council.

Another Rush to Old-Time Gold District

THE one-time famous gold area in British Columbia, known as the Cariboo, is coming back into the limelight as a great sporting country. Some of the most satisfactory bear and caribou hunting is to be had there, and each season for the past five years has seen larger numbers of American hunters seeking their sport royal in that district. Quenel Lake and River are growing in popularity. They are reached from Ashcroft on the main transcontinental line of the Canadian Pacific, and E. S. Knight, an outfitter of that place, has built a fine camp on Lake Quenel, from which short excursions lead into the best hunting areas. Fishing is exceptionally good in both lake and river, often yielding record catches of big Dolly Varden trout, Rainbow, cutthroat and lake trout are also plentiful. Other outfitters are W. G. Adair, Brown Meadows Ranch, Seventy-Mile House P. O., B. C., who operates in the Lillooet and Southern Cariboo sections; Messrs. Kibbe and Reed and Thompson Bros., of Barkerville, B. C., who also are experienced in handling hunting parties, cover exceptionally good moose and caribou country, with opportunities for bagging grizzly, black and brown bear. Arrangements should be made well in advance with all outfitters by hunting parties going into the Cariboo District. Open seasons for big game in British Columbia are: Caribou (male only), September 1 to December 15; Moose, September 1 to June 15 (bag limit three of any species other than grizzly); Moose, September 15 to December 15; Game birds—ducks, geese, brant or rails, September 15 to December 30. Small fur-bearing animals of many kinds are plentiful.

Historical Society Has Annual Meeting

Practically All Last Year's Officers Re-elected—Active Year Reviewed—Judge Howay Tells of Early Clashes Between Indian and White Traders Here—New Westminster Man Reappointed Head of Body by Acclamation

GREAT enthusiasm marked the second annual meeting of the British Columbia Historical Association held last evening in the Provincial Library at the Parliament Buildings. Not only did the big gathering represent a membership which has just about doubled during the year, but a live interest in the work and aims of the society was exhibited. Approval of the policy of the past officers and council was testified in the return of practically the entire last year's slate, as follows:

Honorary president, the Hon. Dr. Maclean, Minister of Education; president, Judge Howay, New Westminster; vice-president, Mr. Beaumont Boggs and Mr. C. C. Pemberton; secretary-treasurer, Mr. J. Forsythe; recording secretary, Miss Alma Russell; editor, Professor Sage, University of British Columbia.

Of the nine members of the council, four in order that a quorum can be obtained easily at any meetings here: Mrs. J. H. Cree, Mr. Hoole and Mr. Henton. Other councillors are as follows: Mr. R. L. Reid and Prof. W. N. Sage, Vancouver; Mr. B. T. Hamilton, Windermere; Mr. F. M. Buckland, Kelowna; Judge Robertson, Prince George; and Dr. M. F. Wade, Kamloops.

Has Made Progress
In his annual report the secretary, Mr. Forsythe, indicated something of the progressive work accomplished by the society during its second year. The interest being taken in the work of the association was reflected in the large increase in the membership. There were now 107 members on the roll, exactly double the number reported last year.

Two societies have affiliated during the year, the British Columbia University Historical Society, and the Arts, Historical and Scientific Association of Vancouver. The Kamloops branch of the B.C. Historical Association is making good progress.

The sum of $10 was voted to the Victoria War Memorial fund. The meeting also passed a vote of condolence to the widow of the late Mr. T. W. Cornett, a very active member of the association, who lost his life by drowning a few weeks ago. Major Longstaffe cabled greetings from Kent.

Indian Meets White

The business part of the annual meeting disposed of the gathering settled down to the more enjoyable feature, viz., Judge Howay's annual presidential address, which took the form of a continuation of the survey he began last year of the early days of the maritime fur trade on this coast, and the meetings which it brought about between the aborigine and the white man. His paper was almost entirely taken up with a resume of the clashes which occurred between the two peoples, and the authorities whom he quoted, even when there was an obvious animus against the Indian, seemed to indicate that the aborigine was more sinned against than sinning in connection with a majority of the massacres and bloodshed which occurred.

It is possible, by another and more carefully-adjusted penalty, to reap any gain the four years' sentence promises and avoid the low it entails. To forbid Dr. Boak to drive a car during a term of years would go some distance in the right direction, though this penalty might not be considered sufficiently severe.

"The question comes down to this: The advent of the automobile has placed a highly dangerous weapon in the hands of many people, who are too reckless, too careless or too nervous to be trusted with such an engine of destruction. A new crime has been created, and a danger factor society. The old penalties do not fit the case and some new means of meeting the situation must be worked out."

Vancouver Sun
The Vancouver Sun expresses relief that the courts of the Province have ruthlessly punished carelessness. Says this journal: "Sentence of Dr. E. W. Boak, of Victoria, to serve four years in jail for running down and killing two pedestrians in his motor car, will do more to check reckless driving in British Columbia than a full volume of traffic rules and regulations."

"The fact that Dr. Boak's professional career is definitely ended by this conviction will, no doubt, summon up much public sympathy for him. Decent, sane sympathy is no offence."

"But even though that sympathy exists, it will not be enough to mitigate the relief of British Columbia people that the courts of this Province have at last definitely decided that carelessness is just as criminal as inherent viciousness and must be punished just as ruthlessly."

"There are, of course, many instances where motor car fatalities have been caused by pure carelessness of pedestrians themselves. In such cases the unfortunate driver suffers much and deserves much pity. "But that does not alter the fact that there are a number of drivers who contribute a perpetual menace to public safety, and without the shadow of dire punishment hanging over their heads are bound to pursue their wild course until their wheels grind out the lives of innocent persons."

THEATRE OVERTURE RADIOCAST NIGHTLY

Famous Musician Conducts—Popular Arrangements in Addition to Great Classical Concert Numbers

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—Announcement is made by Edgewater Beach Hotel Station WEBB of the completion of arrangements whereby they will soon start the nightly radio-casting of the concert overture played by the Balaban & Katz "Riviera Theatre" concert orchestra.

This will be hailed with delight by radiofans because the overture will be sent out twice nightly, the first one will come just about the time when most folks can tune in and let the orchestra play while the evening meal proceeds. Installation of the necessary equipment is now proceeding, and it is expected that the Riviera orchestra will be on the air within the next few days. The orchestra is under the direction of Adolphe Dumont, a notable figure among the great conductors of America. Mr. Dumont, who was educated in Paris and Berlin, matriculated in conservatories there in both violin and composition.

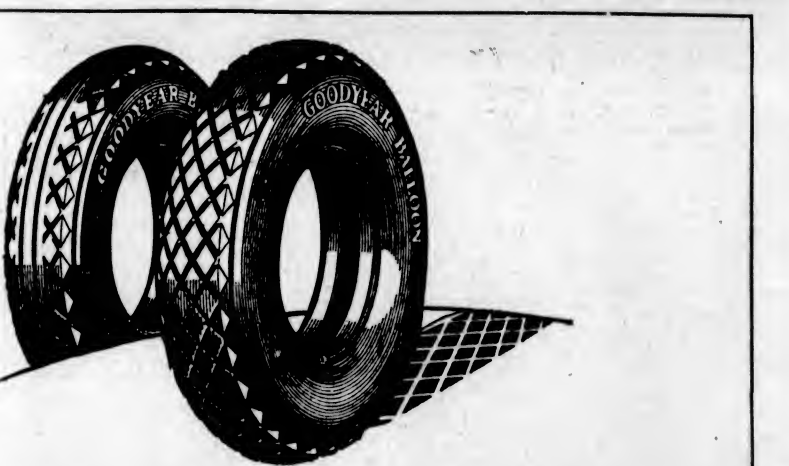

Shortly after his arrival in America, many years ago, he joined the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, where he had considerable experience conducting and as a principal musician. Later he became a member of the Chicago Civic Opera Company orchestra, under the directorship of the late Cleofonte Campanini. Shortly after the death of the illustrious Campanini, Mr. Dumont resigned to join the musical organization of the Balaban & Katz theatre.

Will Redesign Programmes

Made lovers accord Mr. Dumont and his organization a high place among American orchestras, and in presenting the orchestra, to radiophans WEBB will offer one of the greatest radio attractions in America. Mr. Dumont declares that in selecting overtures he will bear in mind that his audience consists of millions now, where heretofore 3,500 persons only could enjoy his music. He will balance his selection of overtures with many popular arrangements, in addition to the great classical concert numbers. Also he will frequently introduce various instrumental and vocal soloists during the overtures.

TWO POLICE OFFICERS PLACED ON PROBATION

Brogan and Sergeant Rankin or else undertake a reorganization of the Saanich police force. If the commission failed to do either of these things, the position of the police force would be very obscure, and the confidence of the public in the department and its personnel would not be so great, he thought.

A large crowd witnessed the final session of the investigation which the commission has been conducting into charges of misconduct levelled by Messrs. Owen Lloyd and D. Patterson against Chief of Police Peter Brogan. Messrs. J. S. Brandon and Herbert Davey addressed the commission on behalf of their respective clients, Chief Brogan and Mr. Owen Lloyd, after which Reeve Macneil gave his personal views on the evidence and the police administration in general. Then the commission went into private session for half an hour to reach a decision, after which the public was readmitted into the room and Clerk R. P. Sewell read the finding of the commission in the inquiry.

Claims No Charges Proven
In speaking on behalf of Chief Brogan, Mr. J. S. Brandon, his counsel, said that the inquiry involved the reputation of a police officer and the head of a department. If it were found that Chief Brogan had been mixed up in doubtful matters, then, the speaker submitted, it would be up to the commission to take some action with respect to his conduct. In the face of all the evidence, however, there was nothing condemnatory of his conduct, nor was there the slightest trace of anything that would warrant censure passed upon him.

Mr. Brandon reviewed the various charges against Chief Brogan, and contended that none of them had been proven. He charged that vindictiveness on the part of the Chief's accusers was responsible for these allegations against Mr. Brogan's conduct, and classed the accusations as "impossible and improbable."

"The meanest, dirtiest and nastiest charges that could have been made against the Chief were the handwork of Mr. Owen Lloyd," asserted Mr. Brandon, who said that the charges were groundless and nothing but a "trump of lies." He said that the charges were not real, but just "imaginary and cooked up by Lloyd because that the chief has always been found honest, hard-working and industrious and at all times ready to lend a helping hand."

"If the Angel Gabriel had to come down from heaven and mix up with some of the residents in the municipality, his wings would certainly be singed," declared Mr. Brandon, in referring to Chief Brogan's accusations and in asking complete exoneration for Chief Brogan.

Sharp Conflict in Evidence
Mr. Herbert Davey, counsel for Mr. Owen Lloyd, one of the complainants, said that there was such a sharp conflict in the evidence that perjury was undoubtedly being committed by either the defence or the accusers.

He dwelt at length with the evidence adduced at the trial, going into detail in many portions of the testimony given by various witnesses, and contending that the story of the defence did not hang together.

Mr. Lloyd's counsel, in referring to a remark made by Mr. Brandon in respect to whisky on the mantelpiece at the Ribbet Farm, remarked that witnesses for the defence had sworn that there was no whisky in that place. Mr. Lloyd said there was whisky there, and consumed. Where, then, did Mr. Brandon get his information that there was whisky on the mantelpiece at the Ribbet Farm? inquired Mr. Davey. "He could only get it from his client, Chief Brogan, who must have been lying in his evidence," surmised Mr. Davey.

The speaker pointed out that the evidence of the defence showed many contradictions of its witnesses' stories, citing several illustrations to support his contention. He described the defence's case as a mass of contradictions and a mass of impossibilities around in uniform without his note book as a rule.

"The Commissioners must ask themselves," said Mr. Macneil, "the following questions on this point: 'Was this whisky, etc., left at the house of the chief so as to implicate him in a charge of accepting such articles? If so, why is it that the person who left the supplies did not communicate with the person or persons who were conducting the inquiry?'"

"Why was the matter not reported immediately to me with a view to having the name of the person who left the whisky traced?"

"Is it possible that the supplies were left at the house of the chief, because they thought he was in the habit of receiving such presents and that they would be accepted by him?"

Soon to Be Clasped in Winter's Icy Grip

DAWSON, YUKON TERRITORY

DAWSON, Y. T., Oct. 10.—The steamer Casca, last boat of the season, called for White Horse this afternoon with a big load of passengers for the outside, some leaving for the North for good and others to spend the winter in milder climates. Among the passengers were several old sourdoughs who have not been outside since the stampede days of ninety-eight. Gold Commissioner George P. Mackenzie is on board on his way to Ottawa to confer with the heads of the government regarding Yukon affairs; also C. B. English, mining engineer, representing a strong group of English capitalists operating in Northern Ontario, who was investigating the silver mines of Keno Hill.

mission on behalf of their respective clients, Chief Brogan and Mr. Owen Lloyd, after which Reeve Macneil gave his personal views on the evidence and the police administration in general. Then the commission went into private session for half an hour to reach a decision, after which the public was readmitted into the room and Clerk R. P. Sewell read the finding of the commission in the inquiry.

Claims No Charges Proven
In speaking on behalf of Chief Brogan, Mr. J. S. Brandon, his counsel, said that the inquiry involved the reputation of a police officer and the head of a department. If it were found that Chief Brogan had been mixed up in doubtful matters, then, the speaker submitted, it would be up to the commission to take some action with respect to his conduct. In the latter was peevish because the Chief, in the performance of duty, brought Lloyd into court, where he was fined for allowing cattle to roam at large on Saanich roads.

Terms Accusations "Dreams"
"Mr. Lloyd has been dreaming, and he had a number of dreams, which he put before the commission in the form of charges. I think the basis of the dreams must have been the whisky on the mantelpiece at the Ribbet Farm," surmised Mr. Brandon. Reeve Macneil: "I thought there was no whisky there on that evening when Chief Brogan and Sergeant Rankin were present."

Mr. Brandon: "Mr. Lloyd said there was some there."
Chief Brogan has been in the police service for twenty-five years, and has not had a bad mark against him, said Mr. Brandon, who declared and improbable circumstances. The evidence given by the accusers hung together well, and was not a single contradiction, he held.

Hesitate in Testifying
Mr. Davey wondered why Messrs. J. Christie and Percy Fisher did not willingly come to the inquiry and testify. He said that both these men were on intimate terms with Chief Brogan. Their names had been drawn into the case by Mr. Owen Lloyd.

Why did they not take advantage of the first opportunity to come and give testimony and clear themselves? They realized the chief's position was at stake. Why did not they rush forward, if the chief's story of the incident was correct, and offer to clear Mr. Brogan? "They were in a dilemma," continued Mr. Davey. "They could have come forward and told the truth, but they had to be subpoenaed for they didn't want to do the serious thing of committing perjury, which you gentlemen must infer from the contradictions in the evidence."

Counsel thought young Tom Fisher should have been called by the defence. "Evidently he refused to go in and tell anything but the truth, so was not called by the chief," Mr. Davey concluded.

Reeve Reviews Evidence
In addressing the commission, Reeve Macneil reviewed the evidence taken at the inquiry at the three sessions, on August 2, August 28, and September 2, and expressed comment on many portions of it. In referring to charges made by Mr. Lloyd regarding the Ribbet Farm incident, the speaker wondered why there was so much anxiety on the part of Mr. Lloyd to leave Sgt. Rankin's name out of it. If Sgt. Rankin only went there to buy some straw, why was he so anxious that his name should not come into the case if he only bought some straw and looked on at a simple game of cards?

The Reeve said that the same question might be asked of the chief in so far as his visit was concerned. Did Chief Brogan go there simply to spend a few hours looking on at a simple card game, when he could not even play cards himself?

In speaking of the Chinese complaint, in regard to the thirty dollars extracted from the Chinaman by the Chief of Police for Mr. Fred Burgess, the Reeve thought that this should have been a civil court business. It is a very dangerous practice for any chief of police to go around extracting money damages from people for his personal friends, he averred.

The Liquor Matter
"I feel rather sorry that the matter of the bottle of whisky and the bottles of beer, also the $1 was brought before the commission," said the Reeve. "It appears that the articles were left at the house of the chief on August 14. We had a meeting on August 19 and nothing was mentioned, the matter not being brought up until September 2. I asked Sgt. Rankin if he made a note of the case in his book, and notwithstanding the fact that he was in uniform when I asked him, he said that he had left the book at home. TOO MUCH GOOD NEWS BEWILTERS MARKET

Hear Traders Make Successful Bid on Theory of Easy Future, and Market Reacts

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Stock prices reacted sharply in today's market, ignoring such firebrand news as an increase of nearly 185,000 tons in the unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation, publication of record-breaking car loadings for the week ended September 27, and the conclusion of negotiations for the German loan.

Selling pressure came from bear traders who apparently acted on the theory that too much good news was in sight. Liquidation inspired by political uncertainties also was regarded by some traders as a factor in the decline.

U.S. steel common closed a point lower after having sold as high as 108 1/2. American Can was off 3 1/2, which was 2 1/2 points under the day's maximum. Further liquidation in General Electric, which had stock down to 24 1/2, or nearly 40 points below the year, established early in August.

Nash Motors closed 1 point to 143 and losses of 3 to 4 1/2 points took place in United States Cast Iron Pipe, Woolworth, Nickel Plate and Railway Steel Springs.

Nearly 100 issues sold off one to two points, some of the most popular being American Locomotive, American Sugar Refining, North American, Studebaker, Allis Chalmers, American Tobacco, Crucible Steel, Davison Chemical, Maxwell "A", National Biscuit, Pullman Tobacco Products and General Motors, the last named at a new low. The decline in rails was not as pronounced as a point or more was recorded in several prominent issues.

Foreign exchanges responded favorably to the signing of the German loan agreement. Demand sterling advanced more than a cent to above 14.43 and French francs fell more than 7 points to around 5.20 cents. Japanese yen established a new low for the year. South American exchanges lost ground on profit-taking.

Money Markets Quiet
The time money market was quiet, with no change in rates. Commercial paper displaced a somewhat firmer tone.

A sharp break in the Warner sugar issue and reaction in the market of the St. Pauls were the outstanding incidents in today's bond trading. Announcement of the signing of the German loan agreement was followed by heavy advance orders, construed by members of the offering syndicate as an indication that the American portion of the loan will be early disposed of. There was nothing new to account for the selling of the St. Pauls which lost to 2 1/2 points. Most of the other active railroad issues showed only fractional changes.

Foreign bonds showed only nominal changes, Japanese issues sagging on the establishment of a new low record for yen exchange. Liberty issues were unchanged to three points lower. United States Treasury 4 1/2's advanced slightly.

Metal Mike Will Steer New C.P.R. Coast Steamers

Princess Kathleen and Princess Marguerite Will Be Equipped With New Gyro-Pilot and Gyro-Compass—Will Do Away With Personal Element of Quartermaster and Obtain Higher Efficiency

SS. BIRMINGHAM CITY EQUIPPED WITH DEVICE

THE much-talked-of quartermaster, "Metal Mike," known in scientific circles as the gyro-pilot, will be used soon on the Canadian Pacific's triangle run and Alaska service, it was announced yesterday. It was learned that the two new liners, Princess Kathleen and Princess Marguerite, now under construction at John Brown & Sons, Clydebank, are both to be equipped with gyro-pilots, to be used in the coastwise and triangular runs.

"Metal Mike" is the gyro-pilot or automatic steering device that has been installed on many of the round-the-world liners, and that all the latest steamships are being equipped with.

When a ship is in the hands of "Metal Mike" there is a marked difference in the course of that ship. The finest steersman in the world cannot compete with this automatic steering device, for it responds to even one-sixth of a degree of variance, and corrects it at once.

Prevents Yawing

It is obvious that the time to correct a ship's yawing is when it begins, and that prevention of it means saving in time and fuel, aside from an increase in the factor of safety. All ships yaw more or less, but with the gyro-pilot, this yawing is reduced to a minimum. The personal element and its attendant errors are eliminated and mechanical efficiency takes its place.

The course of the ship is plotted on the chart, the gyro-pilot is set to correspond with this course, and automatically it does its work correcting the yaw. This will be of particular importance to the Princess Kathleen and Princess Marguerite when making their runs during foggy weather, as it will lessen the danger of getting off the course and going ashore on one of the many islands that dot the Strait.

By this new device with which the new steamers will be equipped, the yaw will be reduced to a minimum, and "Metal Mike's" accuracy, by eliminating the personal element, is expected to reduce the revolutions of the engine as much as 5 per cent, all of which is reflected in the cost of propulsion.

The Gyro Compass

"Metal Mike," however, cannot perform these duties without the application of the gyro-compass, which will also be installed on the new C.P.R. ships. The gyro-compass is an application of the principle known to scientists. Any wheel rotating rapidly about its own axis, free to place itself in any plane, will, when placed upon a larger wheel, through its axis, assume the same direction as the axis of the larger wheel. Explicitly, the rotation of the earth on its axis is the larger wheel and the compass the smaller wheel, hence the axis of the latter takes the true north and south direction.

Best Away With Defects

The gyro-compass does away with all such defects as go with the magnetic compass, that is, local attraction and earth's attraction, which varies at different points on the surface of the globe.

The rotor of the gyro is made of bronze, runs at 6,000 r.p.m., weighs 55 pounds and is driven by direct current at 70 volts. And placed in the rotor is prevented by a thrust bearing at each end of the shaft. The thrust bearings are lubricated by taking a small quantity of the oil carried up by the oil rings.

Considerable interest has been taken in the gyro-compass and gyro-compass aboard the freighter City of Birmingham, which is in port loading lumber. This vessel only recently had the "Metal Mike" installed, and the master and officers are both highly elated over the results that have been attained.

U.S. and League of Nations

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—"I am one of these optimists who believe that the time is not far distant when the United States will take its place with the other nations of the world as a member of the League of Nations," declared Major-General John F. O'Rourke, of New York, who addressed the Empire Club here yesterday.

AUSTRALIAN TRADE TO BE INCREASED

Many Products Exported by United States Will Be Hit by Strong Canadian Competition

Australia and Canada have completed negotiations for reciprocal tariff concessions. It was learned here yesterday. The agreement will affect many commodities produced in the United States. It is to become effective upon ratification by the respective parliaments.

Of particular importance to the Pacific Northwest, it is pointed out, is the fact that the new agreement will give preferential rates to canned salmon and other products shipped from Canada to Australia. Canadian concessions are about one-half the general duties applicable to the United States, with the exceptions of raisins, dried currants, raw onions, hawthorn and eucalyptus oil, which are to be admitted free from Australia.

In many cases the new duties are lower than preferential rates hitherto granted to the United Kingdom and other British possessions.

Other items on which Canada has granted concessions are eggs, butter, cheese, apples and other fresh fruit, canned vegetables, honey, glue, gelatin, fresh and canned meat, lard and tallow. Australian concessions to Canada include reductions of import duties on fish, gloves, printing machinery, calculating machines, typewriters, cash registers, newspaper paper, corsets, rubber footwear, iron and steel tubes, motor vehicle chassis and parts.

Typhoon Kills Thirty People

MANILA, Oct. 10.—Thirty persons are dead and many are missing as the result of a typhoon which swept over the Cagayan Valley, according to a telegram received today from the Cagayan Provincial constabulary commander. The report added that although the typhoon occurred a week ago, many sections of Cagayan Province remain shut off from communication, and the death list may be increased largely when complete reports are received.

The typhoon sank many launches and sailboats and hundreds of small houses were torn from their foundations and carried away.

Total damage done by the disturbance will reach several hundred thousand dollars, according to reports received here.

KILDONAN SEIZED ON DAMAGE SUIT

VANCOUVER, Oct. 10.—Vested with powers as marshal of the Admiralty District of British Columbia, Sheriff Charles MacDonald today seized the ship Kildonan on a warrant. The seizure was made on the application of the owners of the ship Hanna Nelson and will be held pending the hearing of a suit for $2,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by that vessel through a collision in Vancouver harbor on or about September 28.

HUGE PILE DRIVER NEARS COMPLETION

TARZAN NO. 2 TO BE LAUNCHED NEXT WEEK

Largest of Kind in World Will Be Used in Construction of the New C.P.R. Pier

The world's largest pile driver, Tarzan No. 2, which was constructed at the Wallace Shipyards, Vancouver, and which will be used in the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway's new deep sea pier now in course of erection at the Terminal port, is rapidly nearing completion at the B. C. Marine and will be ready for launching again next week.

The construction of this 1,000-ton scow was done by the Wallace Shipyards. It is the largest pile driver in the world, is being built for the Sydney E. Jenkins Company, of British Columbia, who are doing the pier work for the Canadian Pacific Railway. After being launched it will be taken around to the B. C. Marine yards for engine and equipment outfitting.

It will be used to handle the huge 30-ton concrete piles which will go into the construction of the C.P.R.'s new pier.

Approximately 300,000 feet of British Columbia has gone into the building of this scow. The pile-driving machinery, which has been assembled in Vancouver, consists of two Scotch marine oil-burning boilers, a complete generating and lighting plant, several hoisting engines, a steel ladder 90 feet high and two 20-ton derricks.

Indigestion Gas on Stomach Pains After Meals

Many people suffer terribly from gas and pains in the stomach after every meal, and are kept in constant misery.

For the past 44 years Burdock Blood Bitters has been bringing hope and joy to thousands suffering from various forms of stomach trouble, helping them to eat three square meals a day, helping them to eat anything they wish, without having to suffer for it after.

Mr. Fred Nelson, Moose Jaw, Sask., writes: "All last summer I was troubled with stomach trouble and indigestion, and also gas on the stomach. I could not eat anything except some light food, and even then I would be bothered with pains after each meal. I have taken four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and I have been able to eat anything I wish, without having to suffer for it after."

For the past 44 years Burdock Blood Bitters has been bringing hope and joy to thousands suffering from various forms of stomach trouble, helping them to eat three square meals a day, helping them to eat anything they wish, without having to suffer for it after.
